Residents Flock to Open House Covenant Meet

"I hereby bear witness I am ready to welcome into my neighborhood neighbors on a personal basis without regard to race, color, creed, or national origin."

This is the key phrase of the "Open Housing Covenant" which has been printed on cards with space for signatures and address of the signers, and will be distributed to almost all churches, natures and address of the signers, and will be distributed to almost all churches in the central county, and also civic and fraternal organizations.

Sponsors of the effort are the Central Contra Costa County Council of Churches, the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center, the Fairplay Council of Central Contra Costa County, the Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church, the Orinda Council for Civic Unity and the Catholic Interracial Council of the Archdiocese of San Francisco.

THE PURPOSE of the circulation and signing of the open covenant was explained Wednesday night by Rev. Walter Bishop of the Orinda Community Church, and Council of Churches representative, during a public meeting in the Jewish Community Center, Lafayette.

More than 125 persons listened and asked questions.

Many picked up stacks of the covenant cards, promising to circulate them among members of their churches and organizations. Bishop said, "The covenant is merely a declaration of your intent to practice brotherhood."

He added that the signers have the option of stipulating that their names be kept confidential.

BUT WHEN a thousand or more publishable adult signatures are collected, the sponsoring groups will finance their publication in a local newspaper, and will take other steps to create a better "climate" for equality of housing opportunity in the central county, he said.

Rev. Phillip Dauntion, executive director of the Council of Churches, told the audience that "racial inequality" is a luxury the county can no longer afford, and the people of the world are resistance to integration, not only resistance to integration, not only in the South, but the North, Midwest and California as well.

He added that the problem will come home to this area when the Veteran's Hospital opens in Martinez and many employees belonging to minority groups will not want to commute to Oakland, and will be seeking housing here.

"The Fair Play Council survey has indicated that our county is not ready to receive the influx of minority home buyers," he said.

HE ADDED, "The covenant will help prepare the climate to receive these people..."

He said, "... the real estate people say they do only what the community expects them to do. This is a horrible indictment of the community."

Dauntion spoke regarding arguments that real estate values go down and whites "take off" when minority buyers come in.

"Residents need only place a sign in front of their homes. It should say, 'Neither my house or my principles for sale,' he said.

HE REFERRED to a question and answer sheet, which was made available.

One of the questions: "Would complete acceptance of 'open housing' overrun our neighborhoods with minority families?"

Answer: "All evidence would point to the conclusion that a normal distribution would result with less than one home in 10 being occupied by minority families. This would suggest the merits of a diffuse pattern and the value of working toward that goal."

Dauntion added, "And I assure you this is not a radical plot, and there are no communist overtones... the covenant is only asking you to give clear witness to what you are committed to as American citizens."

THERE WERE no hecklers in the crowd, although Rev. Bishop said he has received a number of anonymous phone calls by persons calling him names and advising him to desist.

Before the meeting, notices were sent to all central county churches, and telephone calls followed up the notices. And civic organizations were contacted.

Phone calls will determine which churches or groups did not have representatives at the meeting, and need materials.

Bishop said members of the audience should advise their organizations to publish the covenant in their own bulletins, emphasize its purpose at meetings, make the cards available for signing.

AND CHURCHES should especially remind members that Brotherhood Sabbath is February 17 and Brotherhood Sunday is February 19, he said. He hopes that the thousand signatures and many more will be collected by then.

A number of questions were asked of Bishop from the audience.

Which groups are classed as minority groups? Any human being might fall into that category, depending on the place.

Is money needed to finance the publishing of cards and later publishing of signatures in a newspaper? Yes. The 10,000 cards cost $94 alone.

WOULD NOT the phrase in the covenant, "... on a personal basis" be better rephrased to "... neighbors of good character"? No, this leads to a debate over who decides on good character.

Should exact addresses be included by the signers? Yes—this would avoid confusion over common names, and be more convincing to real estate people. But listing the town would suffice, although the committee's checking for authenticity would be more difficult.

Whose idea is this? Has it been tried elsewhere?

IT ORIGINATED in the Council of Churches. It has been successfully tried in Palo Alto, where the signers' names and addresses were published, also in San Jose, where there was publication, other Bay Area communities, and in other states.

Bishop later added, "... many people who agree with the covenant's principles think they are the only ones who feel this way. This lets them know many people want to practice brotherhood."

Bishop is the head of the Open Housing Covenant Committee.

Members are Mrs. Orville Hill of Lafayette, Fair Play Council; Mrs. Robert Sloan of Orinda, Catholic Interracial Council; Mrs.

Louis Ruhland of Orinda, Orinda Council for Civic Unity; Dr. James Carey of Berkeley, president of the Catholic Interracial Council.

RABBI David Robins of the Jewish Community Center, Rev. Aron Gilmartin of the Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church.

Persons who picked up covenants for distribution included representatives of the St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Pleasant Hill; St. Mary's Parish, Walnut Creek; Hillcrest Congregational Church, Pleasant Hill; Mt. Diablo Valley Liberal Religious Youth, Faith Lutheran Church.

St. Michael's and All Angels' Church, Concord; St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Orinda; Moraga Baptist Church; Mt. Diablo Unitarian Church, First Christian Church, Concord; American Association of University Women, Pleasant Hill; Walnut Creek Methodist Church, and others.

Daylight Burglars Lead Criminal List

A daring daytime burglary at the home of Andrew J. Flynn, 915 Mt. View Drive, Lafayette, netted thieves approximately $3500 in jewelry, cameras and radios, the sheriff office reported this week.

Five other burglaries or attempted burglaries also took place in the area this week.

Another daytime burglary took place at the home of John E. Lindberg, 1170 Oleander Drive, Lafayette. Almost $200 worth of liquor was taken from the premises. The bandits forced a garage door open leading to a hallway in the home, sheriff's deputies said.

Almost $100 in cash and checks was taken from a service station at 601 Patterson, Pleasant Hill.

Gerald McDonald reported that the thieves knew exactly where the money was kept. They forced a door to the lubrication room and then went directly to a coffee can where the money is kept overnight, the report said.

The Donald Rheem Estate in Rheem was broken into for the second time in four months. The prowlers forced a French door to gain admittance to the house, but took nothing.

The Lafayette Rental and Hardware was looted of many small motor parts over the past week. The store owner noticed the objects were missing, but did not know when the burglary took place.

A burglary was attempted at Gimbo's in Rheem, but the persons could not force the door lock, according to sheriff's reports.

A model home at 4229 Valente Drive, Lafayette, was stripped of its shrubbery last week-end according to Mario Valente, in charge of the home. Four plants were dug up and taken while he was away from the property.

The sheriff office also reported four incidents of promiscuous shooting and three cases of malicious mischief in the past week.

Charles Prages, 212 Camino Sobrante, Orinda reported that persons were shooting in his residential area all day Sunday and then continued the next day.

Nicholas L. Taliferro, 160 Elderwood Dr., Walnut Creek, reported juveniles firing rifles near his home last Monday.

Pat's Signal Service on Mt. Diablo Blvd. in Lafayette reported that a person riding in a car fired a single shot from a high-powered BB rifle thru their front window. No one was injured however.

U. L. Hagen, 3260 Silverado Center, Lafayette reported that persons had been firing rifles too near his home for several days.

M. M. Muth of 31 Muth Dr., Orinda, reported that someone tossed a rock through one of his house windows. Damage was about $50.

A mailbox was destroyed on the property of Martha DeRocco, 290 Longfellow in Pleasant Hill.

Two ball bearings were fired through the front glass door of the Sun Valley Lumber Company in Lafayette. The shots apparently came from a sling shot.

Picketing Stopped on Tunnel Job

Picketing was halted yesterday on the East Bay Municipal Utility District's water tunnel construction project between Lafayette and Orinda, but tunnel workers still have not returned to work.

A jurisdictional dispute which involves the new Union of Tunnel and Rock Workers of America stopped work on the Orinda tunnel and 13 other projects in Northern California on Monday.

BECAUSE of the pickets which had been located at the Orinda project, workers refused to report for work, and the entire construction job, scheduled to take three years, has been delayed.

Officials said there was no indication of when the strike would end, but EBMUD spokesmen explained there would be no delay in getting back to work once the strike is ended.

They added, however, that they plan to begin construction of Lafayette Aqueduct No. 2 about February 1, and some delay may be caused on that project because of the six small tunnels included.

ABOUT 65 tunnel workers are involved in the utility district's project, which includes the boring of a three-mile tunnel through the hills between the two communities.

The tunnel workers' group is reportedly striking because the National Labor Relations Board "is dragging its feet" on a request for a representation election among its members.

Tunnel workers split from the parent International Hodcarriers, Building and Common Laborers Union in October, charging that the larger group had not done enough to promote safety on construction jobs.

NEW TRAFFIC signals at the intersection of Camino Pablo and Brookwood Road were officially put into operation yesterday by Mark Kermit, county traffic engineer, and state highway officials. Demonstrating their pride in the new lights are Ken Courtright (left), president of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, and Clarence Betz, the chamber's secretary. The chamber led the lengthy fight for the installation, which includes a full channelization of traffic at the intersection.

Danny Van Allen Will Move To Drop Request

By LARRY GLAZIER

Danny Van Allen, operator of the bar and restaurant at 3554 Mt. Diablo Boulevard which bears his name, told The Sun this week he is withdrawing his application for a cardroom license at the location.

Van Allen said the official withdrawal will take the form of a letter to Supervisor Mel Nielsen of Lafayette, asking that no further consideration be given the request. The letter will be mailed this week, the restaurateur said.

John Nejedly Will Address Orinda AAUW

John Nejedly, district attorney of Contra Costa County, will speak on the "Welfare Program in Contra Costa County" at the Thursday meeting of the Orinda Branch of the American Association of University Women which will be held at 8 p.m. at the Pine Grove School.

Earlier in the week, at Tuesday afternoon's hearing on the matter, the County Board of Supervisors agreed to delay action on the application until 3 p.m. January 24 in order for District Attorney John A. Nejedly to prepare an amendment to the county's cardroom ordinance.

MISS MARY SMITH, assistant clerk of the board, announced at the meeting that her office had received a total of 250 protests against the application by Tuesday.

Nielsen told his fellow board members that Van Allen had asked for a two-week delay on the application, but attempts to reach Van Allen by phone or in person to discuss the matter this week were unsuccessful.

Van Allen said Wednesday that he had been out of town and just returned. "I didn't know the application was going to create such a furor. This is my community and I don't want anything the rest of the people here are opposed to," Van Allen stated.

Fathers, Kids! We'll See You at Basketball Night!

Once again The Sun and St. Mary's College are joining in the sponsorship of a Father and Children Night.

The big event will be Saturday, January 28, at 8 p.m. at the St. Mary's gym when St. Mary's meets Cal Poly on the basketball court. And, if these nights run true to tradition, there will be hundreds of youngsters there rooting for their favorite team.

HERE IS HOW you can take advantage of the special Father and Children's night.

Just clip out the coupon which appears below and fill it out. Be sure to include the number of children that will be in your party. Then mail the coupon to Basketball Editor, The Sun, 1001 Oak Hill Road, Lafayette, with a stamped, self-addressed envelope. Do not send any money to The Sun.

Your coupon will be validated and returned to you, thus insuring you of a seat at the game.

THEN, ALL YOU have to do is round up the youngsters and present yourself and the kids to St. Mary's January 28, with your coupon. The admission charge will be $1, which will pay for one adult and as many children as he can adequately supervise (under 16 years of age).

Approximately 500 seats have been reserved for the fathers and children, so be sure to get your coupon in early. It will be first come, first served.

THE SUPERVISOR asked the board to deny the application on the basis of the many protests and the failure of Van Allen to make himself available for comment.

Nielsen also asked the board members to authorize the district attorney to strengthen the cardroom ordinance so that "the supervisors have more power regarding the location of cardrooms."

He said, "Lafayette hasn't had any cardrooms in many years. Cardrooms are OK in certain areas, but should be barred in certain other areas. A cardroom doesn't belong there (at Van Allen's)."

SUPERVISOR Thomas Coll of Concord said that inasmuch as the sheriff's office approved Van Allen as being of "good moral character," he could see no means by which the application could be denied under the existing ordinance.

Parents To Hear Clinic Director

Dr. Roth will speak of his experiences in the field of adolescent medicine. Copies of his book, "Teen Age Years" will be available at the meeting.

Sun Subscription Funds Will Help Retarded Youth

The need for this service has been generated by the fact that our public school systems offer nothing for children in these age groups with this handicap.

The alternative to the council's services are:

1. A CHILD will stay at home without benefit of formal training and education.
2. For those parents who can afford it, a child will be placed in a private school for retarded children at a much higher cost.
3. A child will be placed in a state home for the mentally retarded at a high cost to the taxpayers.

IN THE PAST The Sun has conducted such campaigns and turned over several hundred dollars to various local charitable organizations. This year the money will go to the Council for the Retarded.

Since its origination in 1954 the council has opened and maintains a pre-school nursery for children in the age group 3-8 years in Danville, and a guided workshop or training center for children from 12 to 18 years in Concord.

THE COUNCIL IS self supporting in that it does not receive any funds from state, federal, county or local tax sources.

So remember, when you subscribe to The Sun during this campaign, you are helping children who cannot help themselves.

And they need the money and the help.

What do newspapers and mentally retarded people have in common?

At first glance, very little. But the situation takes on a different light when the newspaper is The Sun, and the retarded attend Lynn School for the retarded.

The Sun is presently conducting a subscription campaign, and the profits from all new subscriptions will go to the East Contra Costa County Council for the Retarded, Inc., a non-profit organization composed of people who are interested in helping retarded children.

Board Approves Zoning For Large Moraga Area

The first step toward achieving zoning regulations for the vast, 8800-acre Moraga area was taken yesterday by the County Board of Supervisors.

Climaxing a six-year battle between Moraga residents and the Utah Construction Company, owner of almost all of the acreage included, the supervisors approved precise residential and agricultural zoning on a permanent basis.

THE BOARD STILL was in session when The Sun went to press, and it was impossible to obtain a breakdown of the acreage allowed in each category.

A 400-acre parcel located in the center of Moraga was not included in the precise zoning, but will be covered by a separate interim zoning ordinance which will be presented to the supervisors in two weeks by the district attorney's office and adopted at that time.

If the board adopts the interim ordinance, it will take effect 30 days later and will govern the area for one year, according to H. Russell Griffith, the county's principal planner.

GRIFFITH SAID the interim zoning will deal with controlled manufacturing, administrative offices and retail business.

During the existence of the interim zoning ordinance, he explained, the board of supervisors and the County Planning Department will determine what type of permanent zoning will go in the 400 acres.

And, Griffith stated, persons wishing to place buildings on property within the 400 acres under the interim zoning will have to apply for land use permits and public hearings will be scheduled.

THE ARRANGEMENT as approved by the board yesterday was agreed upon last August by a special committee of county officials and Moraga residents set up to study the problem of precise zoning.

The Rheem Center, which was zoned precisely in 1953, is not included in the Moraga area acreage.

Law Encourages Dad To Abandon Home--Nejedly

An unemployed or footloose father is encouraged to abandon his wife and children by the terms of the Social Security Law, Section 606, which pertains to "Aid to Dependent Children."

This was indicated by Contra Costa District Attorney John Nejedly, recently, as he announced that he is asking Congressman John Baldwin to submit a proposed amendment in Washington, D.C.

Nejedly said, "As the Social Security Act now stands, a child under the age of 18 years is eligible for assistance if one or both parents is dead, incapacitated or continuously absent from the home."

"THE FALLACY of the present law is that as a condition to assistance one of the parents (normally the father) must be absent from the home."

"In other words, we have a situation where say the honest, hard-working father is laid off, or is merely working part time. What happens?"

"The pressure under the existing law is on him to abandon his children so that his child or children may qualify under the program."

Nejedly continued, "The father's responsibility to support his family has been emasculated"

Board Adopts Resolution For I.V. School Work

A notice of completion was signed this week accepting with restrictions the work on Indian Valley School. The action followed the adoption of a resolution Monday by the members of the Orinda Union School District Board.

In essence the resolution provided the granting of an extension of time to the Reynolds Construction Company; assessing liquidated damage and acceptance of the work.

Plans for the proposed district administration building were presented to the board by James Andersen, architect for the school district. Nathan Gray, board chairman, turned the plans over to the building committee for thorough review and study.

MEMBERS of the building committee are Frank Tobias, Victor Kingston, J. A. Felchlin, R. W. Foth, Herbert Milmar.

As the plans now stand, the building would encompass approximately 4,400 square feet. A basement considered in the preliminary plans is not included in the present plans. Andersen explained the ground sloped so slightly at the site, a basement would require considerable digging. Aside from the added expense, light and drainage problems would present difficulties, he said.

Reinstatement Required for Some Voters

Voters who failed to vote at the general election may not qualify to ballot in three February school elections unless they are reinstated by notifying the county clerk's office that they continue to reside in the district.

District Attorney John A. Nejedly has ruled that school district residents who failed to vote in the general election and have not been reinstated on the great register are not qualified to vote in a tax increase election in the Byron Union School District Feb. 7, a tax increase election in Richmond Union High School District and a bond and state loan election in the Acalanes Union High School District, both on Feb. 14.

Voters who face loss of registration because of failure to vote in the general election have been notified by the county clerk.

COST OF the proposed building is estimated at $117,000. Gray explained that this included site development, utilities, architects and furnishings.

In other business the board authorized the transference of $4,000 from the general fund to the cafeteria fund to meet the payroll for the next six months, as state reimbursements are slow.

Twelve election officials were appointed by the board, and leaves of absence granted to Mrs. Vivian Johsens, Indian Valley School and Karolus Fisk, Glorietta School.

Sleepy Hollow Parents Plan Potluck Dinners

The Sleepy Hollow School Parents Club will hold potluck dinners at 6:30 p.m. the next two Tuesdays in the multi-purpose room at the school.

Mrs. Jefferson Larkin, chairman of the events, said Tuesday's dinners will be for the parents of children in kindergarten, first and second grades, and the dinners on January 24 will be for parents of third, fourth and fifth graders.

GLENN MCNICOLAS, assistant district superintendent in charge of curriculum, and Harry Clemons, chairman of the Educational Advisory Committee will be guest speakers at the first series of dinners.

Clemons will review the findings and recommendations of his parents committee after 18 months of study concerning the existing educational program in the Orinda elementary schools in relation to the district's philosophy and goals.

McNicholas will speak on the EAC report for the school administration. He served as an advisory member of the group during its study sessions.

FRANK ISOLA, district director of physical education and recreation, will be the guest speaker at the January 24 dinners.

He will show a film on the outdoor education program, which is offered for Orinda's fifth graders each summer. He will also discuss the summer program.

Guests of honor at the speakers' table will include Joseph Sheaff, district superintendent; James Jentes, assistant superintendent for business; Mrs. Dominic Scott, principal of the school; Mrs. Charles Beckett, president of the club, and their spouses.

Those Model Railroad Society Guys Are at It Again -- Show Lasts 3 Days

Those Walnut Creek Model Railroad Society members are at it again.

Their annual exhibit, attended each year by hundreds of dads, kids and even mothers, will be held for three days, January 27 to 29 in the Society's clubhouse.

The clubhouse is located at the south end of the Southern Pacific Railroad Station, Walnut Creek.

THE DISPLAY will consist of a fully operating railroad system on a scale of 3.5 mm. to 1 foot mounted on a 30x45-foot platform, appropriately landscaped, two track main line, yards, sidings, station, industries, town, bridges.

Over the system at a remote station the operators will run the models of locomotives of the past and the present.

The steam-driven former monarchs of the rails will be seen pulling the trains of the cars of their period.

The more modern diesels will appear with the streamlined passenger cars of the present.

E. C. NEVINS, secretary-treasurer of the society, told The Sun, "The exhibit is distinctly not one of toy trains."

"The system has been designed, carefully constructed, detail by detail, by club members, and by them maintained and operated."

"The rolling stock that will be on the rails will be made up of members or by them assembled from kits of the best and most accurate construction that the market affords."

"In all cases strict adherence to scale dimensions is maintained."

NEVINS SAID, "What type of men go in for this demanding but most rewarding hobby? They are even as you and I--doctors, engineers, salesmen, executives, master technicians, young college men, high school youths."

"What they have in common is the will to harness their hands to their imagination creating their personal little structural gems, and working in harmony, each contributing his individual skill to construct and operate a small-scale representation of the age of the Iron Horse, so significant in the development of our country's growth and greatness."

"Patrons of the exhibit are assured a pleasant and instructive visit."

"In addition to the operating personnel, other club members will be on hand to escort guests and answer any questions asked regarding any phase of the railroad's operation," Nevins added.

To Hear Needs

Members of the Walnut Creek Citizens Committee for Better Schools will meet next Wednesday to hear the Needs Committee present its recommendations for additional classrooms, supporting facilities and the size of the bond issue.

The board member resides at 41 La Cuesta with her husband and their two children, James, a senior at Miramonte, and Janet, a sixth grader at Pine Grove. The Gilwees have lived in Orinda 17 years.

PROUD AS punch of their new sister are Robbie (left), 5, and Amy Chesterman (right), 3. The new arrival--quite unconcerned with it all--is Lucy Chesterman, who won the 1961 First Baby Derby in the Orinda-Moraga-Canyon area when she arrived at Alta Bates Hospital, Berkeley, at 1:30 a.m. January 2. Mom is Mrs. Donald Chesterman of 152 Draeger Drive, Moraga. Lucy and her mother will be the recipients of a bundle of gifts from Orinda and Moraga merchants. —Sun photo by Mattson.

Members of the board of supervisors and trustees of the Junior College District were guests.

C. P. Tanner, president of the association, presided over a brief business meeting.

New Suggestions Delay Bear Creek Road Action

The County Board of Supervisors has postponed its long-awaited decision on the location of the proposed Bear Creek Road replacement until 10 a.m. January 31.

Action on the matter was to have been taken by the board at its meeting Tuesday, but two new factors were injected into consideration, and Supervisor Edmund Linscheid of Pittsburg asked for the three-week continuance.

LINSCHIED requested the delay so that he could have more time to study the complicated proposals concerning the road relocation. He joined the board January 3 after defeating W. G. Buchanan in the November election.

The second new consideration was injected indirectly by Duane Mattison, county park director, who announced to the board his plans for the development of the county park system.

Mattison explained that his recommendations, which are a good deal different than the county's general park plan adopted by the County Planning Commission on December 15, 1959, now are under consideration by the County Park Commission.

HE TOLD the board his major suggestion is that the county acquire the East Bay Municipal Utility District's land between the Briones Reservoir and the San Pablo Dam in order to create one large county recreational area.

Studies now are under way to determine if the EBMUD's lands around reservoirs should be opened to non-water contact.

Arts Pageant Folk Preview New Paintings

It's not only a good five cent cigar this country needs, but as far as the Diablo area is concerned, it's an "art gallery," say Diablo Pageant of Arts Society members.

This was graphically demonstrated when over 300 guests crowded into the gaudy hut gallery in the Walnut Creek City Park Saturday.

Occasion was a reception given by the Pageant Society honoring Katy Madsen, its first chairman, and a preview of the current exhibit of portraits by Mrs. Madsen, Jonathan Batchelor, Peter Blos, Jay Fon, Thomas Leighton, Margery Lester and Marie MacDonnell Roberts.

Mrs. Madsen has had the distinction of being one of the artists chosen in a collection for a new book published by Margaret Harold, "Prize Winning Oil Paintings," and why they won the prize.

In the sales and rental room are paintings by such eminent artists as Batchelor, Antonio Sotomayor, Earl Thollander and George Post.

Bay area water color artists exhibiting in the gallery are Muriel Blackman, Robert Jensen, Ken Potter, Alleene Stoeffler, Doris Whipple, Helen Wood and Don Yuen.

OIL PAINTINGS are by Katherine Barrieau, Robert Elsocht, Jack Foote, Louis Gutierrez, T. Gardner, Richard Graveson, Nell Herschkind, Harvey Pell, Betty Plesche, Annabelle Shelley, Geri Yuen.

There are mosaics by Nan Brooks, Eleanor Condon, Mary Jane Goodhan and Lillian Nakazato; sculptures by Elah Hale Hays and David Clay Jones; weaving by Claire Pfeiffer and Margaret Warnke; jewelry by Don Yuen.

Layman's Law Offered in Monday Course

For the first time, the Adult Education Division of the Acalanes High School District is offering a course in law dealing with everyday legal problems.

The course, which is called "Law for the Layman", is being taught by attorney Edmund Regalia at the Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek every Monday night from 7 to 10 p.m.

Registration for the winter class schedule, now in session, will extend through Monday, and persons interested in the course may register at the Acalanes High School.

The following topics are among those to be covered in the curriculum of "Law for the Layman" — criminal law, marriage, divorce, marital property rights, wills, insurance, contracts, and torts.

The Doghouse May Have Bars So Watch Out Pups! Be Good

Every Contra Costa resident who keeps on his premises three or more dogs, or five or more cats, will be classified as a kennel owner, subject to the laws thereof, according to an ordinance amendment being studied by the County Board of Supervisors.

The supervisors will hold a public hearing next Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the Hall of Records, Martinez, on the proposed amendment.

The amendment specifies that the "kennel" category applies to each lot, building, enclosure or premises where the stipulated number of animals are kept, and adds that the permit fee is $20 in each case and renewal each year is $10.

THE ANIMALS counted must be three months old. The classification also applies to places where animals are boarded or sheltered and to pet shops.

The amendment also gives the animal control director the power to enter the home or premises, with or without the owner's permission, to enforce the animal control laws, after proper credentials are shown.

The amendment reads as follows: "The animal control director, his deputies and his agents shall have the authority to enter any premises during reasonable hours, after first presenting their credentials to some adult person having charge of the premises, in order to enforce the provisions of this chapter and all other state and county regulations governing the licensing, care and treatment of animals."

Requirements for a person or firm to obtain a kennel permit are several, and include keeping the premises in clean and sanitary condition, and examination of each animal at least once each year by a licensed veterinarian. THERE ARE also sections pertaining to grounds for denial of a kennel permit and conditions necessary for issuing one. Failure to live up to the amendment provisions are grounds for revocation of the permit by the animal control director. The person will have the opportunity to show cause why the permit should not be revoked, but the final decision still lies with the animal control director.

Local Musicians Will Perform in New Disney Film

Talent at Acalanes High School, for the second time, is to be used in the production of a Walt Disney film. The last time, Oscar Busch, teacher at the high school, played a prominent part in the making of "The Hound That Thought He was a Raccoon."

This time it is music that Disney Productions wants for its new animal picture, "Sancho, the Steer." In the film Sancho, a longhorn steer, plays nursemaid to a group of children snowbound in a mining camp in Colorado at Christmas time. Caught by winter while being driven to Montana, Sancho joins the carol singing of the children.

IT IS THE musical background for this carol singing that Acalanes' vocal and instrumental groups have been asked to provide. Included in the arrangements are a harmonium (reed organ), for the benefit of the younger generation) and a tuba.

Nico Snel Sr. of Walnut Creek did the arrangement of "Silent Night" for children's voices, mixed chorus, harmonium and tuba.

Other local singers include Mrs. John Annis, Mrs. Bert Barnette, Judith Baum, Mrs. Joan Donachie, Mrs. Marvin Locke, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Oxen and Mr. and Mrs. Buce Reeves.

OTHER singers include Nicol Snel Jr., a graduate of Acalanes High, and George Prall, music teacher at Diablo High School.

Ron Webb, Pleasant Hill High School, will play the tuba, and Mrs. Myla Austin of Concord will play the harmonium. Recording will be done in San Francisco some time this month, according to Mr. Busch, who is handling the arrangements.

The following children are also singing: Penny Binker, Kenneth Cramer, Jennifer Danner, Doug Oxen, Margi Oxen, Tim Olson and Dave Russell, all of Parkmead School, Walnut Creek. David Russell is the son of Lee Russell, principal of Las Lomas High School.

Thrifty Classified Ads appear in five papers for one low price.

'GOLDIE' is a typical pup owned by a typical resident in Contra Costa County. If he has two brothers (or sisters) at home, he will be classified as a kennel-kept dog by a proposed ordinance. Installation of cages won't be necessary, of course. The amendment also has strong provision for entering homes to enforce the amendment.

Marrinez Roundup Committee Will Seek Collier Bill Changes

The Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors appointed a committee Tuesday to seek amendments to the state's Collier Bill which was adopted by the Legislature to equalize assessments.

Members of the committee are Supervisor Thomas Coll of Concord, County Administrator J. P. McBrien, District Attorney John Nejedly, Assistant County Superintendent of Schools Harold Fraga and County Assessor C. L. Dunklee.

In other action the board adopted in principle the County General Park Plan submitted by Park Director Duane Mattison.

A request by Social Service Director William Golden for nine additional welfare workers to help meet the growing number of requests for unemployment benefits was postponed by the supervisors for further study. McBrien was asked by the supervisors to make a study of consolidating the insurance coverage of county special districts with the general county insurance policy.

A hearing on the abandonment of surplus right of way on Mt. Diablo Boulevard adjacent to the Friendship Farms subdivision in Lafayette was scheduled for February 14 at 10 a.m.

Farm Advisor on Local Radio Show

Milton R. Bell, University of California farm advisor for Contra Costa County, will talk on "Dormant Winter Spraying" on Del Armstrong's Garden Corner broadcast on Sunday morning at 9:45 on KKIS, Pittsburg.

Diablo Country Club Elects New Directors

Diablo Country Club, at its recent election, has selected three new board of director members. They are Judge Lewis Lercara, Dean McDowell and William Cronin. The other directors that are back for the second term are Moody Jorgensen, Russ Graff and Jack Davis.

At the election of the Board of Directors the new officers for Diablo Country Club are William Houston, president; Louis Schreppel, vice president; Spencer Archer, secretary-treasurer.

The officers and board of directors are busy working on plans to make Diablo Country Club up-to-date in every way. Plans are in progress for the new water system which is being installed and extensive plans are being studied for the remodeling of the men's locker room, bar and grill room.

Diablo Country Club is entering into a very important 1961 and pro Ron Patten and member Bill Rigney are representing Diablo at the coming Bing Crosby Tournament at Pebble Beach.

Russian Language May Be Added To Curriculum of Local High Schools

The possibility of expanding the wish to add Russian to their high foreign language program offered in the high schools of the Acalanes District was considered by board members this week.

A report presented by Dr. Max Appleby, assistant superintendent for education, outlined the increasing importance of the Russian language to students planning to engage in research as a vocation and its relation to the national interest.

Last year 31 school districts of California reported they were offering Russian instruction to more than 1000 students. Since that time the number of districts and students involved has increased, Appleby said.

Appleby reported that each of the district's four high schools currently has a teacher on its staff who is qualified to teach Russian and that an interest has been expressed by students who school programs.

A survey of students has indicated the possibility of two class sections at Las Lomas, one at Acalanes, and possibly one at Miramonte.

Discussion of the feasibility of the new offering centered about the effect adding a fifth foreign language, in addition to the present offerings of Latin, German, French and Spanish, would have on enrollments in these classes.

Conditions of increasing the program would be the district's ability to support the smaller than usual enrollments in such classes, and the recognition that at least two years' study would have to be offered.

It was decided to postpone action on the proposal until further study could be made and its feasibility determined.

Acalanes Accents - Tonight's Dance Will Have Atmosphere of Carnival

By PENNY COUDEN

"This Here" marks the spot (and the theme) of the Rally Dance tonight in the gym. Traditionally, this dance has the atmosphere of a carnival and to keep in line, this year's Rally Committee has constructed seven booths at which students can throw jello, try to pop balloons, pitch pennies, pick up coke bottles with a looped string, and even get married! (Don't panic, mothers, it's not for real!)

Susana Gonsalves, our foreign exchange student from Argentina, has volunteered to work at a fortune telling booth. She has some skill in the art of palm and arm reading already and is willing to pass on some of her sage judgements to all who will produce a dime.

Chuck Stacey, Rally Committee president, has been checking up on the various committees this past week (and I understand he is a field for organizing committees) to see that all's well.

Sue Hall and Judy David are overall chairmen for the dance. Helping them are Phil Knox and Larry Somerton. Barbara Fiorentino has supervised the making of the bids (which are basically black and white "x's" to signify just where "This Here" really is.)

John Holman and his committee of Jan Edwards, Derek Knudsen and Janice Gully are in charge of the jello throw. This is usually a very successful booth, for students just can't resist the opportunity of throwing that soft, yet stable, mass at the faces of their friends, who must serve as victims. This year, though, it was decided that it was unladylike for girls to get their faces covered with jello, so only the fellows will have the honor.

In a similar way, the dart throw will be well attended. Drawings of teachers' faces and balloons will serve as targets, and perhaps it is the hope of some students to vent their teacher grievances by pricking the heads of their choice. On this booth committee are Andy McMeans (chairman), Bob Ingham, Diane Peabody and Marsha Worthing.

Penny pinching the time that is needed to pitch pennies at their booth will be Chuck Stacey (chairman), Judy David, Pauline Martino and Sheri Grant.

Nick Busch knows all about the way a coke bottle can be made to stand on end by slipping a ring (that's on the end of a string) over the neck of the bottle. He's in charge of this booth, aided by Cindy Hillier, Jean Fleming and Doug Southworth.

All boys will have a chance to show their skill at shaving as they attempt to remove the cream from the balloon without popping it. Totty Spragens (chairman), Max Gruenberg and Bill Palmer will supervise these operations.

In charge of the Marriage Booth is Carol English, so parents can rest assured that their students are in good hands. Helping her with the mock ceremonies are Gayle Easton, Joan Giguere, E. J. Emerson and Brian Allen.

Bill Hayes will handle the tickets and John Riner will supervise the music for the dance. Prizes from the booths will be in the form of tickets and at the end of the evening a drawing will decide who will win the gift orders. Last year this same system was used, and much to the consternation of Carol English, the person drawing the tickets, she drew her own number.

Now, how many boys get a chance to show off a little in front of half the student body, especially when that half happens to be all girls? Such was the luck of the varsity basketball squad last week as they became the center of attention at the Girls' League meeting. And they didn't appear by accident.

The purpose of the meeting was to explain basketball to the girls so that they could go to the games and understand just a little of what was happening on the court below. Coach Burt Barnett (otherwise known as Mr. Marnett, the physiology teacher) gave a lecture on some of the offensive and defensive plays our team employs. The boys demonstrated these plays, and needless to say, they enjoyed it—and so did the girls.

Sue Hall, Girls' League president, opened the meeting and Pauline Martino, vice president, led in the flag salute.

Another noon movie in the gym kept the students entertained (for one thin dime) and indoors this past week. "Hit the Deck" was sponsored by Los Amigos, the senior class and the audiovisual department. Profits are divided among these groups.

The names "Allen and Dale" sound like a radio broadcasting pair, and in a sense, that's more or less what this act turned out to be. Brian Allen and his puppet Dale did a conversation together, and though it looked as if there were two doing the act, Brian did all the talking. He made Dale himself several years ago.)

In spring, their blooms burst forth in a spectacular salute to that season, while in fall, before they shed their leaves, they take on fall hues in vivid and lovely shades. Gardeners living in milder coastal regions can even enjoy fall color with flowering cherries. Plant them now during the bare-root season.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

The Iceman Cometh . . .

JACK FROST whipped out his palette & gave us a white-wash job leaving everybody freezing in his wake.

If you think you had trouble heating the house, you were not alone . . . California houses are simply not constructed to cope w/the kind of cold wave that hit us last week.

ONE NEIGHBOR had a call from his family in the East who after the family news, inquired about the weather here, complaining of the bitter cold & blizzards back there . . . "Are all the pipes frozen out there, too?" Answered the California-convert "Of course not, Mom! That kind of thing never happens HERE!" But he had to eat (or heat) his words the next morning when one piece of exposed pipe at his home caused the pipeline to freeze & all morning he hauled water home from the neighbors in a big soup vat. When you can't even brush your teeth, well!

TO COLD FOR COMFORT . . . but not for tennis if you're bundled up as well as Marilee Martin, mother of five, who was off to the courts in clan plaid slacks & a snug white leather coat . . . Sleeves of sweaters spouting steam as Pine Grove boys came in from the courts, where Baby, it was cold outside, even for the younger generations.

PETITE Pat Maginni zipped into her big son's sizeable red ski jacket . . . Phyllis Hartanov snug in a Scandinavian handknit sweater & ski pants, as appropriate a costume for wear here as well as at Squaw Valley where they terminated their holidays w/a stay w/the children.

THE ARNOLD SCHRALLA family, cozy in their car, rolling down the window for us to have a better look at their brand new beautiful Jennifer, just six wks. old. Their FIFTH child!

STILL THAWING out from being frosted at Squaw is Gerry Pixley whose brand new Head skis were stolen right at the Lodge pre-holidays, practically from under his nose.

The Harold Hellers spent New Year week skiing on Mt. Rose, staying in Reno . . . & Edith & Harold Andree off to the bright night lights of Las Vegas felt they were in "another world, another planet" after a round of the fabulous floor shows, et al. Teacher Edith took time out from the bright lights to pen lengthy Thank-You notes to her appreciative fourth graders at Orinda School who were VERY impressed to get such long newsy letters from their schoolmarm.

HIBERNATING in the salubrious sun of Scottsdale, Ariz., the Prentiss Combs family . . . The Sat.Eve.Post author packed up his wife Lela, children, typewriter & guitar & will be back again when everybody thaws out.

CONGRATULATIONS & hello to Ed & Betty Richards in Corcoran, Calif. . . where the former San Pablo principal recently moved to assume vice-supt. of School duties in that district.

If you are missing the well-modulated tones of Orinda's Walt Jaimond on KABL these days, it's because he's moved over on the dial to KQBY, SF . . .

LIKE THE DRIP, drip, drip of the raindrops . . . The sun came out after the fog & frost & thawed the trees, but too late many of us counted the loss of garden plants. Anyone for frozen lemon juice . . . or thirty potted & sad looking frozen geraniums & begonias?

Then Monday evening's twilight cast a soft pink summer glow over everything, the midnight moon climbed high like a wedge of Sunkist orange, gave us back one gorgeous Tuesday & then fizzled back into fog & commuter traffic troubles by Wed. again.

Lest Auld Acquaintance Be Forgotten!

AULD LANG SYNE & new . . . Lots of welcome droppers-inners in the New Year . . . Agnes Kay to share a Krumkakke & coffee bringing me her interesting chronicle in mimeo form of their 3-mos. European vacation last summer. After she left, propped my feet up & read avidly. Around the world in 80 minutes . . . through France, Germany, Italy, Holland, Switzerland & finally Denmark. Delighted to read that they had visited the island of Bornholm where my father was born & where I lived for a few years as a young child.

HAD a good laugh when she referred to the Danske breakfast of pumpernickle dipped in warm beer soup, eaten w/salt herring. How well I remember!

Margaret Moore, local real estate gal, over for lunch still shedding the drops of precipitation from where she was looking at property up & over in the Oak Springs sector. "Just like a Fairyland of Frost," she said . . . & we both wished it would just snow once over lightly.

MORE NEW YEAR visitors included Emmarie Reid w/Allie Rasummussen, Zenny Roberts (we all hugged the hearth & froze together) Chris Lang who popped in to pick up our Mexican paper stork for the shower on Tues. she was giving for Julie Blake, Carl & Ramona Smith's darling daughter who expects in March.

Madeline Benjamin, Jeri Clement, Jean Huntington in out of the cold for the last remnants of my Christmas baking . . . ditto Sylvia Cox w/color shots of the traditional English boxing party they attend every year w/British friends . . . Blanche Brody w/her little Wendy who at 16 mos. talks like an English professor & after changing our house around w/her quicksilver movements, was surprised to find we had wrapped her up in spoils of serpentine.

A chat w/Edie McDowell who was anticipating the Ballet Russe w/her Fairy Godmother (her godmother blows her to all the ballets & the Best Seats!) on Tues. in Berk. . .

INTO the Orinda Pet Shop for a Happy New Year w/Lillian Metcalfe . . . The shop's favorite Mynah bird "Cupid" went mum & stupid on us for the moment, but his extensive vocabulary (& does he get going!) includes "THIS is a fiasco!", "Sure, I'm a party girl," etc. Currently, teacher Metcalfe is training him to startle everyone w/a raucous "No, I'm not off to choir practice!" & "Got any money?"

SPEAKING OF MOCKING birds, mynah birds, rather, (same category), the bird in his cage at Marge Roth's gave her luncheon guests some stiff conversational competition last Tues. . . Intermittent screams & laughs punctuated the chatter of 12 women gathered around a long table for lunch . . . & some of de boid's laughs, believe me, were timed to a T . . . like when we commiserated about do-it-yourself husbands, plumbing problems, etc. . .

HERE, FOR SHRIMP & sherbert, (served in separate courses, OF COURSE) were Betty Edwards over from Lafayette (she formerly lived in Orinda), neighbor Marian Harris, Fran Yedidia reporting on the wonderful AFS meeting held the night before, Gwyneth Donchin ducking out on her three youngest moppets, Connie Benney, Frances Molofsky & Grace Hanks who w/Charles & son Gary was planning to see Bert Lahr in Midsummer Night's Dream at the Curran on Wed. eve . . . Last but not least, Marge's charming mother Mrs. Rose Miller, who is spending her winter here till the snows subside somewhat in Stamford, Conn., where she makes her home.

A TRADITIONAL Twelfth Night party at Dr. & Mrs. Charles Van Duyn on Fri. night, a perfect prolonging to the holiday season . . . Host Charles (Orinda obstetrician), the perfect host in a green plaid jacket, hostess Tinita in a Christmasy splash of red & green print.

A SIZEABLE CROWD of Epiphany revelers w/everybody comparing notes on the exciting season just now terminating . . . The Frederick Johnsons telling about the trials & tribulations of being new horse owners (their dgtr. Elena was presented Grizzly Stable's "CHIEF" as a Santa surprise!) . . . Yvonne & Jay Meyers trying the sumptuous repast of roast beef & ham sandwich makings . . . Father Callavan & his Frances, her festive red frock worn w/an overskirt of bouffant tulle . . . A holly berry-red gown for Kay Brush w/matching sassy red shoes . . . while Nancy Van Dyne there w/husband Jack, wore green slippers w/a beautiful dress of emerald green.

The Jack Lackeys, . . . Grace Hanks in a glen plaid outfit, chatting on the sofa w/Leonard Roth . . . The Gerry Pixleys in a corner conversation w/Phyllis & Dick McAdam . . . George Hauer's classic comment re: our full-length tweedy fringed serape — "Tell me, do you sweep it — or vacuum it?"

MORE THE MERRIER . . . The George Foots from up the street, their contemporary house very unusual & highly dramatic . . . Nancy Foot being chided about her remarkable resemblance to comedian Phyllis Diller of the Purple Onion & more recently of the Jack Paar show . . . Her mannerisms, her stance, especially in that dramatic black dress w/a red rose at its décollete back, her profile, it's amazing! Happens to her all the time . . . that people DO think she REALLY is Phyllis Diller!

A Boar's Head below but no Bores upstairs!

Marge & Jack Ehle (he shares village OB offices w/Chas . . .) among those traipsing downstairs to see the Van Duyn children's charming puppet Theater stage & collection of German made Punch & Judy puppets . . . Also Charlie's Big Game pieces, esp. the mounted Boar's Head . . . Well, there may have been a boar's

Many New Bedding Plants Available for New Year

The introduction of a new plant is accompanied by far less hoopla than is the advent of a new car from Detroit. But we'd make a good guess that far more 1961 models will be sold out of nurseries than out of automobile showrooms across the country.

Do you doubt it? The annual sell-out of All-America roses alone should convince even the staunchest skeptic. And roses are but one of the garden favorites that annually produce a spate of eagerly awaited new forms.

LET'S LOOK for the minute at some of the new bedding plants which members of the California Association of Nurserymen will be offering in this new year. There is a bumper crop forthcoming to be sure.

If you appreciate alyssum for the easy-growing little bedder it is, you'll be more than happy with the new Rosie O'Day, an All-America selection for 1961. It is an unusual deep rose-pink in color and attractively dwarf in habit.

Coral Satin, another AA winner, leads a long list of new petunias for the new year. It is a rich, coral-rose and quite compact. If petunias are your dish, you'll have a feast on the new varieties. Another charmer is Frolic, a tall giant with huge ruffled blooms.

A NEW cockscomb named Fortest Fire will bring blazing beds of scarlet-orange to your garden; a dwarfish bachelor button named Polka Dot comes in several colors of bushy, multi-flowered plants; and an extra-dwarf balsam named (appropriately enough) Tom Thumb will prove a happy treat in mixed colors for all who grow it.

head in the basement but there were certainly none upstairs!

Guests lingering on long into the evening to catch the Last of Christmas . . . The Van Duyn's white tree studded w/ornaments of all countries; Danish drums, German, Italian & French Santas, Japanese paper lanterns, etc. . . On the dining room table, (here the men made man-sized sandwiches of prime roast beef slices) a handsome espaliered tree bearing gold fruit, this flanked by two low bowls graced w/bunches of green grapes & limes . . . Many intros. for Don & Marilyn White, San Jose medic & his wife up from San Jose, who became friends w/the Van Duynes when both families were stationed in Europe . . .

AT THE FOOT of the Christmas tree, a charming realistic Saint Nicholas almost knee-high . . . Tinita told us that a German baby sitter made it for her, of clay, firing it & decorating it. As of Wed., Tinita STILL had her charming decorations up (so did we!) & we can't blame her for not wanting to take it all down! Why is that the house looks stark naked after it is stripped of all its holiday attire!?

Annual New Year's party at the Shasta Rd. res. of Gladys & Bernie Witkin was like a day in High Court . . . so many lawyers, judges, & legal beagle friends of the distinguished lawyer's lawyer & his own lady-lawyer wife, the former Gladys Schwatka of Orinda.

A handsome tree in the foyer flowered w/Japanese paper-folding posies (strictly from Sunset, says Gladys) in hues of mauves & blues . . . We met the Donovans who turned out to be Joan Zapetini's parents . . . Mary & Nathan Gray were there as was lady Judge Betsy Rahn looking blonde & charming in a fur-collared white capeskin coat.

A chat w/the Forest Bryants of Orinda . . . ditto Gladys' parents Mr. and Mrs. Burke, complimenting Mrs. B. on her beautiful silverish shirtwaist dress which she informed us, was a present to her from Gladys & Bernie . . . The poodles who were mere pups a yr. ago, darting like little deer between the guests . . . Susan Schwatka, former swim champ at Orinda Park, telling us about her UC studies . . . Gladys Vashell going w/us since Paul was just now homebound from Las Vegas w/his pal Cookie Lavagetto . . . The party adding to the rest of our holiday memories!

SHADES OF ABSURDIA in Suburbia, the satirical suburban show that left us laughing at ourselves in the aisles years ago, will stage a comeback in the Spring when Miramonte Parents Club (in lieu of the usual dance) will present "Saturday Night Jamboree," a combined dance & stage show, on April 8. General Chrmn. will be Lid & Kirk Miles (Lid was the FIRST Chrmn. of the FIRST Absurdia) . . . & sharing co-chrmn. duties (business-wise) will be Stella & Bob Boyle.

You'll be Inside at the Outside or vice-versa when the Jamboree is held at Miramonte for Albion & Elsie Harmon will handle the Ring of Fire (braziers) & the decor of the outside of the aud., while Nancy & Bill Hanley will have the job of decking the interior . . .

SKITS will be handled skillfully by those vets of many Absurdias, Jean & Stu Henderson & promotion is in the able hands of Ruth & Art Henry. Helen & Roger Stark won't have any trouble w/their Ticket Sales chores for this one. Food will be foremost in the minds of Chrmn. Jack & Winnie Gilbert & Lights for staging the acts & dancing to Palotta's Ork. will be have the talents of Chuck Flenner. EVERYONE will want to join in the fun so on your brand new '61 calendar, right now, circle Saturday, April 8 for a super suburbia socializing!

ACE IN THE HOLE . . . Pine Grove Bridge Club needs reinforcements in all areas . . . For further info when & where, call Bridge Chrmn. Connie Hall at CL 4-4161.

SAFER DUCTILE IRON PIPE

Increasing amounts of ductile iron pipe are being used for water mains and underground gas distribution systems because, as a result of its greater strength and ability to withstand shock.

There is a fine new snapdragon —also dwarf—that answers to the name of Love Letters. It bears a profusion of flowers in good guess that far more 1961 all the familiar colors on plants that grow only 10 or 12 inches high.

And though it's early to think of zinnias, we'd like to close our list with a new one named State Fair that will come your way this spring. A real garden show-off, it produces blooms up to six inches in diameter. There are many others, but space limits us. Your C.A.N. nurseryman has no such restrictions, however, so ask him.

Builders To Honor Mullen

Les E. Mullen of Martinez will be honored at a dinner meeting of the Home Builders Association of Contra Costa County. It will be held at the Concord Inn Thursday evening, according to W. L. "Bud" Netherby, president of the association.

Mullen retired from active service as president-manager of the Western Title Guaranty Company, Contra Costa Division, January 1, after serving since 1920.

The company was then known as the Contra Costa Abstract and Title Company.

Now It's Cemetery Hiking
As Well as Dances, Movies

By CAROL PEDERSEN and SUSAN COX

Tina Cole and Bruce Hancock went cemetery walking Saturday with Roz Starkman and Dick Hanlin. They explored an old castle in Berkeley after they visited graves and then took off for Freddie and Meds, respectively.

Rick Layne and Ann Lincoln joined Andy deGrassi and Sherry Croci and went to see "Sparticus" Saturday night.

Also Ann Lincoln has been grounded for ???—Better be more careful next time, Ann!

Wendy Wilcox and Dick Miller attended last Friday night's game as did Robert Boyle and Mary Baker.

Bonnie Kent celebrated her 16th birthday Monday.

Karen Weatherbe celebrated her 17th birthday last Friday. Bill gave her a luscious coffee colored angora sweater Friday night.

Jan Miller will celebrate her 17th birthday on the 15th (How's it feel to be getting older, kiddies?)

Holly O'Hara is moving to Los Angeles at the end of January and Corbett Kroll is joining the Army!

Kathy Prince and George Merriam went to the Cal basketball game last weekend and Kathy Baldwin and Dennis Johnston went to the show Friday and to a party Saturday.

Marilyn Brown and Brad Olsen went to the game Friday night and then to the after game dance.

Lynn Holmgren, Dianna Hotchkiss, Ellen van Voorhies and Sue Campbell went to see "Ben Hur" Saturday night.

Joyce Fagliano got her license last week and she and Sharon Reed went to "The Plaza" last weekend.

Pat Campbell and Chris Felchlin went to the show last weekend, the only catch was that Chris was supposed to be baby sitting. Did you get a chance to enjoy the show with all those little monsters running around you, Pat?

Linda Shirey and Don Howard went to the Miramonte-Piedmont game with Darnelle Palatino and Hampton Hoge and then to the dance at St. Stephens.

There was a surprise party for Bonnie Kent Monday night at her house for her birthday and Jean Gleason, Karen Rigor, Marc Jacobs, Carol Gilmore and more attended. Bonnie also got her license Monday afternoon.

Doug Hudson, Rich Babcock, John Googins and Rick Bagley and Walt Altorper have been entertaining themselves with a new and different pastime lately. Joan Eberhart and Eddie Chamberland, Barb Bagley and Wayne Victor went for a ride last Sunday. How are things coming, girls?

Dianna Hotchkiss and Dan Huckley went bowling last weekend and Dianna beat Dan, 178 to 150.

Linda Jones broke her arm. Fooling around again, Linda? There was a game last Tuesday with Las Lomas and there will be one tonight against San Ramon, there. John Googins prophesied a possible win over Las Lomas. And we know that we'll beat San Ramon! (Hope, hope.)

Saturday workers:

Rick Bagley works at Swans in Oakland.

Sam DeFrance works at Downs Interiors.

Janet Lucas work at Downs Interiors, too!

Steve Mullen works at Safeway.

Allen Speaks
On Acalanes
Bond Issue

Lafayette Rotarians last week heard Glenn Allen, trustee of the Acalanes High School District, discuss the proposed $3,900,000 bond issue to be voted upon February 14.

Allen, who is industrial relations manager, Western Division, Dow Chemical Company, reminded the club members that the bond issue does not raise the total tax, but only continues financing payments of past years.

Six More Committees Are Abolished by County

Six more citizen's advisory committees were dissolved last week by Contra Costa County supervisors, bringing to 24 the number of groups abolished in the last month.

The action came as a part of a committee cleanup designed by County Administrator J. P. McBrien to do away with some of the 60 committees formed since 1950.

Groups which have been inactive will be abolished, under his plan. The committees which still serve an advisory need will be recharged and reactivated. Those termed inactive by McBrien and abolished last week by the supervisors were committees created since 1955 to study commercial building development, functions of the coroner's office, county small boat harbor, secondary roads, rotation of deputy coroner appointments and dog licensing and inoculation laws.

Bryant Is THE Salesman

Carl Bryant of Lafayette, central county real estate salesman for eight years and former director of the California Real Estate Association, has been named the 1960 Real Estate Salesman of the Year.

Bryant received a plaque Monday at the breakfast meeting of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board. It was presented by Robert Clough, the 1959 recipient.

The award is given each year to the salesman who performs "outstanding service" to the real estate board, its brokers and fellow salesmen.

In past years, others so honored were Frank Curtis, Ray McCoy, Thelma Braly and Clough.

Bryant has also been a salesman director of the Contra Costa board, and last year was state president of the Real Estate Certificate Institute.

He helped organize the Institute which is composed of graduates of the University of California extension certificate program. Bryant also was active on the local boards research committee for several years.

He entered real estate sales in Oakland in 1946, and after working in the jewelry business for several years became sales manager for Eichler Homes, Inc.

He is now a salesman for Barney Gilbert real estate firm in Walnut Creek, and specializes in commercial properties.

Bryant, 43, and his wife, Jacqueline, live at 3155 Plymouth Road, Lafayette, with their children, James, 10, and Susan, 8.

During World War II, Bryant was a first lieutenant navigator with the U.S. Eighth Air Force, operating over France and Germany from England.

He received the Distinguished Flying Cross for leading his squadron back from a raid although severely wounded by flak, and also an oak leaf cluster.

He also received the Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters before his 30 missions were over.

He was lead navigator for the 490th Bomb Group, and on one raid when his bomb group led, he acted as lead navigator for an air division of more than 500 planes.

$8 Million Jump for MLS Sales

Sales volume jumped almost $8 millions from 1959 to 1960 on the Multiple Listing Service of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board.

The "Squawker", the board's official bulletin, reported that 1960 Multiple Listing totaled $32,385,017.

The previous year's total was $24,759,569.

DURING 1960, some 4600 homes were listed by MLS for sale, and 1769 were actually sold.

Actually sold the previous year were 1326 homes.

The multiple listing service is offered by the board to its members who wish to place information on a home for sale in the hands of all real estate brokers and salesmen. The home seller then has the advantage of the additional service. In addition, many other homes are sold individually by the real estate companies.

The last month of 1960 has some $2,800,000 in MLS sales, compared to $1,450,000 during December the previous year.

THE BOARD'S new officers were installed Monday morning at the Walnut Creek Elk's Club. They are Charles E. Bailey, president; Jack Wolverton, vice president; Lewis Reark, secretary-treasurer.

Directors installed were Bill Glogovac, Ray Henry, Nan Stewart, Carl Bryant, Bob Clough, A. J. (Buck) Johnson, Horace Aiello, Tom Duffy, Dave Rockwell, Bill Anderson, Ted Poehler, Doris Jellett, Clark Wallace, Vern Benson and Conrad Wilke.

March of Dimes Widens Program; Drive Has Begun

To Contra Costa residents for whom the welcome Salk vaccine came too late — and to those still unvaccinated — the New March of Dimes still represents the aid so necessary when polio strikes, say fund drive leaders.

This also is a transitional period for the New March of Dimes which is widening its program to provide research and eventually therapy and cures for arthritis and birth defects that result in crippling.

Despite this, county March of Dimes receipts in the past five years themselves have fallen from $128,810 in 1956 to $70,134 last year, a drop of almost 50 per cent, they said.

OVERALL reorganization of the Contra Costa County Chapter of the National Foundation's program has consequently been necessary.

Continued shrinkage of funds could threaten the very existence of the county's program, they said.

The county chapter has found that the cost of the program has run between $90,000 and $100,000 per year, reflecting even with policy changes the decrease in cases, since the Salk vaccine.

In 1958 the patient aid program cost $11,500 per month and previous to that averaged well over $12,000.

ANOTHER polio epidemic is still possible, however, until more county residents are vaccinated.

Continuing research is seeking answers for prevention and cure of both arthritis and birth defects.

At the same time information from these studies also provides new clues in the fight against cancer, immunological disorders, genetic problems and mental illness.

For Contra Costans to continue to receive the same quality of efficient assistance provided in the past by the March of Dimes they must realize that development of the Salk vaccine has been an aid along the way and not the final answer, they said.

Are Substations Essential To Your Family's Safety?

Do you use the Sheriff's substation in Lafayette (or Oakley, for that matter?) You may not have much more opportunity, because there is serious doubt as to their value in a modern police operation.

County Administrator Joseph P. McBrien feels that they can be eliminated at any time. Sheriff Walter Young has decided to continue the substations for another year, pending a full study.

The Sun advocated the installation of substations some years ago, and we are not sure as to the advisability of just "closing them up." It took a long, long time to get them established in the first place.

BASICALLY, WE are still in favor of the substations, and will look forward to the completion of this study with interest.

Substations, per se, have a great deal to be said in their favor. On the other hand, with the geography of our county being what it is, and with modern communications systems having improved as they have, it is entirely possible that substations are not really necessary, and that there are more efficient ways of providing law enforcement.

THIS AFFECTS all of us personally. First of all, we are talking about police protection for our homes and families. And with our ever increasing population, crime becomes more prevalent.

With the exception of the relatively few of us who live within incorporated city limits, we are all affected by the kind of protection offered by the sheriff's office.

Secondly, we are talking about money, because we pay the bill. And we have a right to pay for the kind of protection that we want — and that is best for us.

Ultimately, this problem will be up to the Board of Supervisors to decide, because that board holds the purse strings for the sheriff's department.

APPARENTLY, THE sheriff has decided to make the study during the coming year, and McBrien is already convinced that the substations are not worthwhile. We would like to suggest however, that both the administrator's office and the sheriff join forces to make the study, so that they can, in turn, make their recommendations to the board of supervisors.

We feel that there are some questions which should be, and undoubtedly will be, answered. How many people patronize the substations? Could the problems be handled just as well by long distance phone?

If the substations are not performing as they were designed to perform there could be two reasons for this. Either they are not being utilized properly by the sheriff's office, or they are, in fact, unnecessary.

With the tremendous growth that we are surely going to experience in the future, we feel that it is wise to spend a year studying the substations.

The ultimate decision will be up to the board.

Really, Laos You Say...?

What happens in Laos, or Cuba, affects you, your home and your family.

What happens in Washington, D.C., has a definite affect upon your family.

What happens in Sacramento, and in Martinez, affects your family.

It is vitally important, in these times of stress and momentous decision, that we, as intelligent citizens, keep ourselves well informed.

THERE ARE several invaluable ways in which we can do this. For up-to-the-minute coverage of happenings in world affairs, it is important to subscribe to, and read, a daily newspaper.

For a summary, and more complete understanding, of world events, a weekly news magazine is the key.

For local events, and news of importance here at home, The Sun is your answer.

WHATEVER YOUR choice of media, whatever your choice of organs within the media, it is important that you make a regular habit of being — and staying — informed.

Our present world and local situation makes it mandatory.

And We'll See You There!

Baseball may be the Great American Sport, but who's playing baseball now?

Lots of people are playing basketball, though, and interest runs high in this great spectator sport.

AND FAMILY affairs — at basketball games! — can be fun affairs. At least, it has proven to be so in the past. That is why The Sun joins St. Mary's College in Moraga to present the Father-Children Basketball night January 28.

The purpose of this editorial is not to give you the rules and regulations, nor to explain how to take advantage of the generous offer of St. Mary's. All this will be found in the front section.

The purpose is to point out that you and your youngsters can have a wonderful evening out for practically no money.

WE THINK your children will enjoy it. All the youngsters who have attended in the past certainly have.

And we think you might get a kick out of it, too.

So why not reserve the night right now, and take your kids (or your neighbors' kids) to the basketball game.

We'll see you there!

The Staff Corner Are The Rules Different?...

By NORMAN COLBY

Being an avid reader of the highly-descriptive San Francisco daily newspapers — including both rape and redevelopment stories — I sometimes wonder if the big-city people who live in the central county want the "daily" treatment in their local weekly paper.

It is a temptation for me as an editorial writer to sometimes emulate the big city boys in approaching or preparing a news story.

I have felt that a vigorous probing for beneath-the-surface stories and just as vigorous wording tends to increase the readers anticipation of the next issue of The Sun and his interest in happenings in his own back yard.

THE COUNTRY-EDITOR style of reporting the weddings, not the divorces, the parties, not the peccadillos, is not what attracts today's informed reader, I thought.

Imagine my surprise on reading the "American Press" magazine for November, which quotes a University of Washington associate professor as saying "A weekly newspaper cannot be operated by the same rules as a large daily."

Professor Robert Shaw says "... the feelings small town residents have toward their towns is quite like a family feeling ... (small town) publishers made it absolutely clear that they considered community betterment to be their main purpose as a publisher ... (they said) when there's a chance to slant news in favor of the community we do it."

Shaw adds, "... There exists, in fact, a type of anti-journalistic behavior among weekly publishers in which the editor tries desperately to solve an unpleasant situation so he will not be forced to print the news of it."

HE CONTINUES, "... weekly publishers do a considerable amount of extra work to 'patch things up' quietly without public pillory, much as a patient father who loves his family."

Shaw quotes other small-town publishers as going even further.

Said one: "Regarding the suppression of the hard facts in favor of sweetness and harmony, I have reached the conclusion that this is what the great majority of the readers want after all."

"You can win more friends for the paper by keeping the suicides and embarrassing news out than you can ever win readers by putting them in."

"BECAUSE THE WEEKLY editor is so close to his readers — his neighbors — it is quite obvious that both his peace of mind and theirs will be enhanced by avoiding the publishing of unfriendly news."

"... Because a small-town publisher has enough problems financial, equipment, personnel, long hours — why should he invite angry visits and phone calls, jeopardize his few remaining friendships or risk losing some of his badly needed business accounts?"

Professor Shaw pursues this theme in a three-page article, much of which is out of my sphere as a mere editorial writer.

My question: do the big-city people who live in Central Contra Costa prefer news "slanted" in favor of the community? Would they prefer to have the "hard facts" suppressed in favor of sweetness and harmony?

WOULD WE be making more friends by printing good news and wastebasketing the bad?

Is peace of mind the main goal of publishing a newspaper — or for reading one?

We Like It Here... Oh, Can't You Hear Them Calling Caroline... JOHN!

By MARIE MONAHAN

IT TICKLED ME PINK! Those Other People's Children committing the same little social sins we hate to admit our children do. The brightest spot in the newspaper one day was little Caroline Kennedy tripping into the midst of her father's conference on her mother's high heels.

She stole the show, broke up the business of business for the moment — with the press photos landing the pix on the front pages of their journals.

THEN THERE was the prize one of Princess Grace on the royal balcony of her royal Monaco residence. But suddenly the glamorous ex-movie star was just part of the background.

BESIDE her stood her daughter, the Little Princess, not so daintily picking her royal nose on the royal balcony.

The picture was a CLASSIC... with universal appeal.

For all children pick their noses. It's very democratic.

Even yours and mine. Republican children included.

AND NO amount of nagging or good upbringing or English Governance or Royal Kingdom Come can keep the kiddies from probing into their little proboscises.

OR like Caroline one Sunday... kicking around in the church pew.

The press will certainly not lack for good copy — for Caroline and young John Fitzgerald Jr. will provide us with a good many laughs for a long time.

MAMA K. and her new Jackie Look will be relegated to the fashion and society section.

President-Elect JFK will have to be content on page 2 or 3 unless he's sharing the limelight with his little lad. Say, at being intercepted during touch tackle in the White House corridors.

With his Irish background, Junior will be a little halfback they won't be able to hold back.

HOW are you gonna keep them down in the Nursery after they've seen the Blue Room?

And don't be surprised if it's suddenly announced that the nation's official drawing room is suddenly called the Rainbow Room... because of a little boy running rampant with a box of finger paints.

I don't know why but the idea of a trial of Rice Krispies through the halls of The White House delights me. Ditto when I think what fun they'll have pillow-fighting or playing Hide and Go Seek in the Lincoln Room.

CHILDREN OWE us a few chores for all the troubles they cause us. As long as it's Other People's Children who get into such mischief.

It means we all have something in common with the Head Man's Household.

That paper Daddy left here by the phone, Son... have you seen it?"

"Oh, yes, Daddy... I made a rocket out it and floated it out the West Wing window."

"CAROLINE! Did you see the calling cards here on the table?"

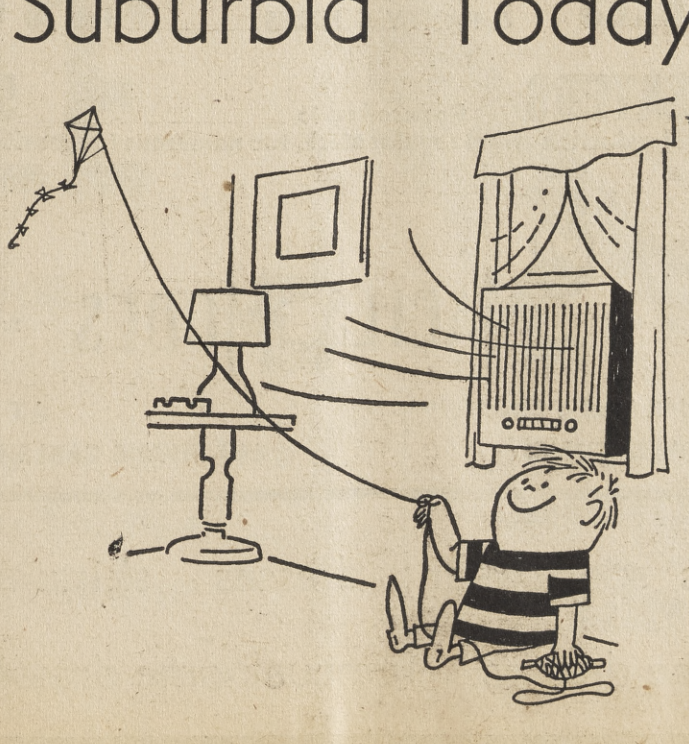

And sounding like Baby Snooks, Caroline will answer sweetly — "Yes, Daddy... I cut them up into eensy-teeny paper dolls."

(Well, there go our relations with Zimboobosans!)

ANYHOW... when things get rough around the homefront, be glad you've just got six rooms to worry about WHERE to FIND it.

Imagine wading through the White House in search of your favorite pipe!

Letters to The Editor

HOMEY VERSE

(Editor's Note: The following is a poem received last week along with payment for renewal of a subscription to The Sun)

Dear Editor:

Now that the year 1960 is gone It is my pleasure to send The Sun

Their "meager" charge for a nice new 1961.

Well 1960 came and went And exciting it was—but wantonly spent

On wars, rebellions, politics and such,

Which left for history a gruesome touch.

And yet you know, with it all, There were many things to recall.

Many indeed—too numerous to mention,

To enthrall us, with our rapt attention.

And you recorded them in sadness or fun

So thanks again — dear Old Sun.

And keep us informed in the new year

So we may say loud and clear, I read it in "our own paper" —

The Sun, of course, a "home-town paper."

THE VOLLMEERS.

PANCAKES

Dear Editor:

I was particularly interested in your article of December 30, 1960, regarding the lack of "Pancake Parlors" in this area.

I have designed pancake restaurants for Sambo's Inc., of Santa Barbara for three years. More specifically I designed Sambo's restaurant in Palm Springs, Carmichael, Redding, Medford, Oregon and Eureka.

I have passed along your newspaper article to Sambo's Inc., with the suggestion that you were right, we do need a pancake restaurant in this area.

Dear Editor:

I think it was a splendid idea of Miramonte Parents Club to suggest the printing of the Film Estimate Board list and for you to run their ratings once a month.

I also am heartily in favor of your keeping people informed as to who their representatives, state and national, are. Also, how they vote.

You have been active in civic issues, and I appreciate that — as so many others must.

Heart Disease Is Problem at All Age Levels

Contrary to the generally held theory that heart disease is primarily a cause of death in later years, a recent report of Contra Costa County Vital Statistics shows that the heart diseases are responsible for a large percentage of deaths at all age levels.

Among infants under one year of age, 10 per cent of the deaths are caused by congenital malformation of the heart and circulatory system.

In the age level from one to 59 years of age, 35 per cent of the deaths are from some form of heart disease. Sixty per cent of deaths from 60 to 69 years of age are attributed to heart failure.

Deaths due to heart disease include congenital heart disease, rheumatic heart, hypertension (high blood pressure), hardening of the arteries, and other diseases of the circulatory system.

Research supported by the Contra Costa County Heart Association includes a grant to Dr. Donald D. Daniels, of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay to forecast how a child with a heart defect will fare in later life.

A research team is investigating the effect of drugs, exercise, body position and even bicycle riding on the heart and lung function of children with various types of congenital heart defects.

Insurers Activate Safety Committee

A Safety Committee has been activated by the Contra Costa County Association of Insurance Agents, according to John Scaglione, secretary.

The committee will cooperate with the County Safety Council, he said.

The members recently heard Jack Jones speak on current trends in the fire insurance

Under The Sun Do You Think Movies Should Be Classified?

By HERMAN SILVERMAN

Several weeks ago The Sun published a list of current movies, brief synopsis and a classification for each, prepared by the Film Estimate Board. These ratings, to be printed monthly and perhaps more often later, indicate whether a movie is suitable for children, mature youngsters or adults. Incidentally, we have not yet received the new ratings for January.

I asked for your reaction and was pleasantly surprised that so many of you consider this an important feature. Hence, I think you'll be interested in the report I recently read in the New York Times concerning film classification. Here it is:

Though outwardly the Hollywood movie industry is serene, even cheerful, there is considerable concern about a dread word that is gaining popularity outside Hollywood.

Label movies?

This word is "classification." By classification is meant a method that would clearly label movies — regardless of artistic virtues — that are not considered suitable for children.

The discussion of classification has become important because powerful religious groups are apparently considering this as a way of coping with what they regard as an excessive emphasis on sex and violence in American movies.

Backed by religious and civic organizations, a number of state legislatures are apparently prepared, to bring forward censorship bills that will include provisions for classification.

Hollywood's reaction...

Officially, the movie industry is against classification. The industry's position is that its present system of voluntary self-censorship is adequate.

The industry now gives a seal of approval to pictures that abide by its censorship code. This code is administered by the industry's Production Code Administration.

Government censorship is regarded as obnoxious by movie studios. Moreover, it is argued, if the States were to come up with varying censorship restrictions, the result would be chaotic.

Hard cold cash

Apart from the matter of principle, the movie industry is mainly concerned with what classification will mean monetarily. It is generally believed that classification will confront the industry with costly choices.

To reach movie-goers of all ages, producers may be forced to make only pictures that are fit for children. This may mean—in many cases—a lowering of the quality of films. Thus, while the movies may be satisfactory for children, adults may decide they would rather watch television.

Or else, the producers can decide to forego the young portion of the movie audience and make movies for adults.

This would enable moviemakers to compete on more equal terms with the better foreign pictures, which have become increasingly popular in the United States in recent years.

What do they do elsewhere?

Most foreign countries have some form of classification.

Because movies in the United States have become a week-end business, adult films, even of considerable artistic merit, might be unable to get good week-end bookings as easily as inferior films that are considered "family entertainment."

Voluntary classification?

Nevertheless, there are in the industry influential persons who think the movie business might be well advised to introduce its own form of classification to avoid governmental classification and at the same time raise the artistic level of American movies.

And that concludes the Times' report. What do you think?

DO WE HAVE TO DO THIS

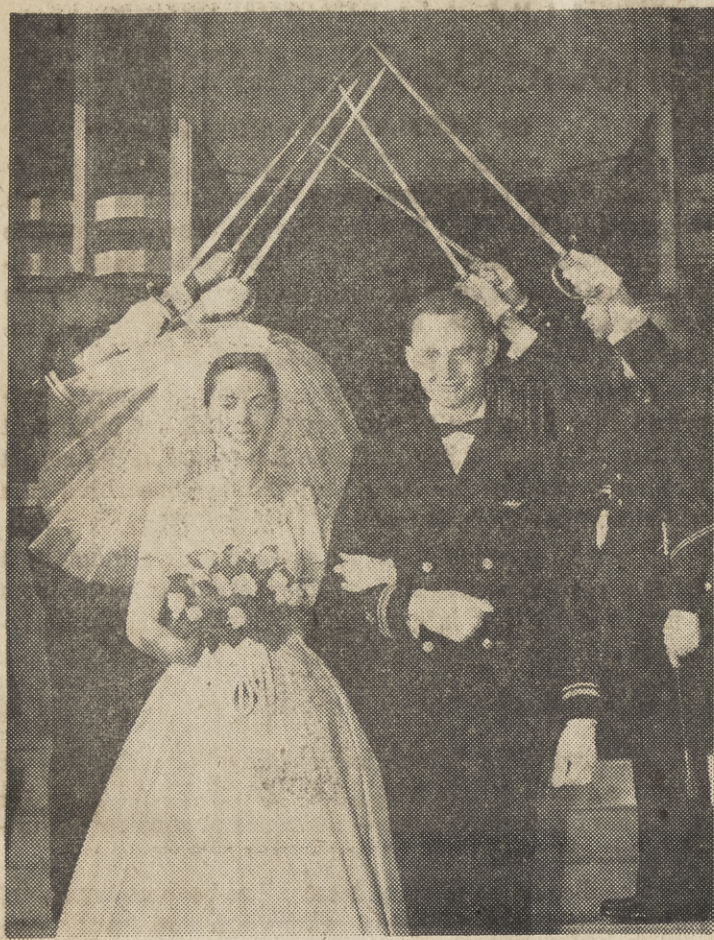

We build better roads. We retain traffic engineers to make them safer. We pass traffic laws — hire officers to enforce them. Then — we junk all these safeguards by speeding, passing lights, ignoring warning signs. Where's the sense? Such law violations breed accidents that injure and maim thousands daily! The remedy? Drive safely — drive lawfully. Where traffic laws are strictly obeyed, accidents go down!

FACE THIS FACT

Drivers are the No. 1 cause of traffic accidents which last year injured 1,400,000 and killed 38,000. This year an increase is threatened. How long must this go on? YOU can supply the answer!

Weddings, Engagements Brighten Beginnings of Brand New Year The

LIEUTENANT (jg) and Mrs. Charles Curtis Pease were married recently at the Naval Chapel, Treasure Island. The bride is the former Susan Winifred Ray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Ray of Orinda. —Odell Studio photo.

Sunsan Ray Is Bride of Navy Lt. Charles Pease

By MARIE MONAHAN

Through an arch of swords shimmering in the sunlight, Susan Winifred Ray of Orinda left the Naval Chapel on Treasure Island the afternoon of December 28 as the bride of Lieutenant (jg) Charles Curtis Pease, a 1959 Annapolis graduate.

The traditional Navy nuptials were conducted by Navy Chaplain Lieutenant Bosca, after which the newlyweds received felicitations at a champagne reception at the Island's Officer Club.

For the wedding, the blue and gold of naval uniforms teamed up with the colors of Christmas to fashion a full-fledged holiday wedding, right down to the cake-cutting. The three-tiered wedding cake was cut by the couple with the sword presented the Annapolis cadet for high scholastic honors.

For her wedding, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wellington Ray of Ranch Road, Orinda, chose a white Italian silk with short sleeves and a short chapel train. Her shoulder length veil was topped by a full petal white Dior rose and she carried a bouquet of white bride's roses, long stemmed and tied loosely with white velvet tubing ribbon.

Maid of honor was Miss Suzanne Frisou, an Anna Head classmate of the bride, who was a freshman at the College of Holy Names at the time of her marriage. The bridal entourage was comprised of Jean Bodfish, daughter of Mrs. Frank Wright of Orinda, Julie Allen, daughter of the Sheldon Allens of Orinda, and Dorothy Ann Pease, a UC student and sister of the bride.

The maid of honor and bridesmaids were dressed in similar short green satin frocks with which they wore white kid gloves and carried Christmas bouquets of red carnations sprigged with variegated holly. Their headresses were Dior bows of matching green satin.

The mother of the bride chose a beige silk frock with a full chiffon overskirt and a beige straw hat trimmed with flowers for her daughter's wedding. A small spray of yellow orchids blossomed from her matching beige bag.

The bridegroom's mother wore blue brocade in a sheath style and pinned white orchids to the matching jacket.

The bridegroom, who is the son of the Reverend and Mrs. Ralph B. Pease of Fullerton, California, received his "wings" on December 24 from the U.S. Naval Academy. He chose for his best man Midshipman David L. Bourland of Pleasanton, who was the bridegroom's "plebe" during his senior year at Annapolis.

Ushers were Midshipmen Robert P. Rupprecht and Patrick A. Day, both of the Bay Area; Lieutenant (jg) Howard L. Young of Coronado, Lieutenant (jg) Dennis F. Reed of Long Beach and Ensign Daniel Kearnes of Alameda.

He has one brother, Lt. John Eshleman Wahl, USN, now stationed in Washington, D.C., after four years as a naval aviator flying out of Guam. His paternal grandparents are the late Mr. and Mrs. John J. Wahl, pioneer Red Bluff residents.

Judy is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Manuel J. Duarte Jr. of Concord, Contra Costa landowners, and great-granddaughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Duarte, pioneer ranchers in the Concord area, and the late Mr. and Mrs. Antonio Enos of Concord. Her paternal grandparents are Mrs. Edwin E. Ware of Martinez and the late Mr. Ware, and she is the great-granddaughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. Frank Taylor of Martinez. He was connected with the early day riverboats on the San Joaquin and Sacramento.

ear The Robert Murray Family Has Time for Golf in the Living Room

By JEAN JERNIGAN

A former golf pro and athletic instructor, Robert Murray of Geraldine Drive, Pleasant Hill, is now the manager of the used car department of a Concord Automobile dealer . . . but he still plays golf, and in his living room at that!

Mrs. Murray, who temporarily forgot this unique situation when answering questions about her family, said, "Goodness, how could I forget our miniature golf course in the living room. I am constantly picking up stray clubs or wading through balls whenever I go in or out of the room!"

THE MURRAYS met when he was teaching school and she was teaching ballroom dancing in Modesto. Military life followed close on the heels of Modesto life, and the Murrays went to Las Vegas Air Field where he was head athletic instructor.

"When we were through at Las Vegas," Mrs. Murray recalled, "we came to Diablo Country Club and lived on the grounds the six years Bob was golf pro. The area was beautiful even then, when they were rebuilding the course."

The Murrays have lived at their present address for eight years. Bob Murray has coached and assisted with baseball leagues for several years. An avid bowler, he bowls with the Impala team at the Rheem Bowl. He is a member of the Concord Elks.

THE THREE Murray children, along with their Dad, were particularly proud of Mrs. Murray recently when she was named runnerup for the title of Pleasant Hill Man (Woman) of the Year.

Mary Murray was named by the committee for her years of service to youth and with adult groups concerned with youth. Now a member at large of the Mt. Diablo Girl Scout Council, she was community chairman.

She began her work with Girl Scouts as a Brownie leader, then as a Troop leader. "I really couldn't say which I enjoyed the most," she remarked, "my work directly with the girls or with the adults. Both seem so worthwhile."

WORKING FOR a number of years with PTA, Mrs. Murray has been a room mother many times, served as ways and means chairman, hospitality chairman, Girl Scout representatives and is known for her willingness to pitch in and help with both Fair Oaks and Oak Grove School affairs when she is needed.

She also served as vice president of the Walnut Creek Motion Picture Council. Still active in Girl Scouting, Mrs. Murray is learning now about the Boy Scouts, serving as den mother for Den 6, Pack 215.

A skilled ballroom dancing teacher, she still teaches from time to time. She has instructed for the Grobe Cotillion as well as giving private lessons.

"MY BIG enthusiasm right now," she remarked, "is Hawaiian dancing. I am taking lessons with Marge Bronson at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center and just love it. We are planning an event for March, and I guess I will either be in it or assisting with it."

Mrs. Murray's many activities haven't interfered with her children at all, who are happy active youngsters. "I feel that often the busier a person is, the better they are," she commented.

Nancy Ann, who will soon be 17, is the Murray's eldest child. Nancy goes to Pleasant Hill High School where she works on the school paper. Interested in journalism, Nancy plans to go to Modesto State College.

She is a member of Job's Daughters, Bethel 238, and likes to dance, swim and play tennis. Activities that she shares with her sister, Barbara Jean, who is 13.

BARBARA JEAN is an eighth grade student at Oak Grove Intermediate, and an active member of the Oak Grove Intermediate Girl Scout Troop. Mrs. Murray said, "Barbara Jean likes to cook and is interested in dress designing."

Jerry is the Murray's nine year old son. He's a Cub Scout, interested in sports and swimming. The Murrays have their own pool, and the family shares many happy hours together swimming.

"All the children help around the house," Mrs. Murray said. "The girls help with the cooking, sewing and ironing. We enjoy doing things together, and I really like to keep house."

Someone else who likes to live at the Murrays is Minnie, an all black male Persian cat. Minx finds the miniature golf course an added attraction, as do many of the Murray neighbors. However, when it comes to the swimming pool, he prefers the spectator's role.

Women in The Sun

Gas Tax Funds For Transit, Smog Urged

Gas taxes earmarked for the highway improvement program should also be allocated for an expanded transit program, including rapid transit and smog control. This is an opinion expressed in the January edition of the Contra Costa League of Women Voters publication, "The Voter," signed by Mrs. C. W. Funk of Danville, president.

Margaret Baldwin, chairman of the State Finance Committee of the league, said her group disapproves generally of the earmarking of specific funds in the State Constitution for specific uses, with some exceptions.

BUT SHE added, "The problem of earmarking produced a mixed reaction. A clear majority felt that our excellent highway system is proof of the wisdom of earmarking according to the benefit principle. 'Keep this program going with earmarked gas taxes, they said, but expand it to include related problems such as rapid transit and smog control.'"

She added, "A vocal minority felt that the highway department could manage nicely with annual appropriations and then would be less inclined to build an empire. 'MONEY from fish and game licenses, horse racing, liquor taxes and professional regulatory fees should go into the general fund, rather than being earmarked, most of us felt.'"

Mrs. Baldwin continued, "Nearly everyone would like to see provisions for fixed funds removed from the Constitution entirely, to be replaced by statutes if necessary."

"Set amounts of money written into the Constitution were especially disapproved. But most felt that education needs protection, and would retain, on a statutory basis, apportionments to local school districts of a specified amount based on average daily attendance."

"MORE THAN half also would retain fixed charges for debt service and teacher and state employee retirement payments. 'Welfare should not be a fixed charge, but funds should be appropriated annually, as for the mental hygiene and corrections program."

"The legislature needs flexibility in adjusting the state's financial program to meet recession or changing government. 'This it cannot do so effectively when two-thirds of the budget already is allocated by law."

"If the funds for education were set aside as before, and the highway program continued with earmarked tax money, but most other fixed charges and earmarking dropped, the legislature would control over half the budget—a considerable improvement."

STATE FINANCE Committee members included Kay Brown, Jewell Ford, Lydia Hammonds, Jane Keating, Kathy Litsinger, Kathy Reis and Dorothy Davis. Pat Kinney, chairman of the league school finance committee, said her group this month will discuss unification of school districts and finance.

Mrs. Funk at the end of the publication said she has interviewed Congressman John Baldwin, State Senator George Miller and Assemblyman Jerome Waldie.

She noted that they have diverse viewpoints, partly because they represent areas of varying size—Waldie the Eastern Contra Costa, Miller all of Contra Costa County and Baldwin both Contra Costa and Solano Counties.

Welfare Council Director to Council on Aging Gertrude H. Hall of the Contra Costa Community Welfare Council staff will be one of the California delegates to the White House Conference on Aging in Washington, D.C.

Replacing Jerome Waldie, Assemblyman from Antioch, Miss Hall will be the third delegate from Contra Costa County. Dr. Lyall Bishop of Walnut Creek and John H. Tolan of Richmond are the other delegates from this County.

Miss Hall will attend in her new capacity as director of the Welfare Council's Project on Aging, which is part of a nationwide research project sponsored by the Ford Foundation.

Delegates represent their states in proportion to population. California, with New York and Pennsylvania, will have the maximum number of 100 delegates. Over two thousand delegates will attend the general sessions where outstanding authorities will outline the problems and prospects of the aging population.

Twenty major workshop subjects have been chosen for discussion during the four day Conference. Miss Hall will attend the workshop on local community organization, while the other two delegates from Contra Costa County will attend the medical and housing workshops.

Penny Tax Rate Increase Sought by Pollution Dist.

Directors of the Bay Area Air Pollution Control District have voted to ask the State Legislature to amend the District's law to provide a one cent increase in the District's permissible tax rate.

The vote was eight in favor, two against, one abstaining, with one absent.

Board Chairman Andrew C. Byrd, a councilman from Burlingame, and Board Vice Chairman Clarissa S. McMahon, a San Francisco supervisor, voted against the resolution.

MARIN County Supervisor William Goss abstained from voting.

Richmond Councilman Clarence D. Erickson was unable to attend the meeting, due to the press of business.

The additional funds may be needed for effective enforcement of the District's anti-smog regulations by the District staff and to reimburse local agencies for enforcement work carried on by them under the Board's cooperative enforcement policy, directors said.

Director McMahon introduced a resolution, adopted unanimously, requesting the board to memorialize the U.S. Congress to enact legislation providing the quickest possible tax write-off for capital expenditures for air pollution control equipment.

DIRECTOR Francis Dunn suggested that a letter and a copy of this resolution be sent to the State Legislature requesting that they take similar action.

A resolution, introduced by Director William C. Blake, requesting the Board's Legislative Committee to seek an amendment to the District law establishing misdemeanor power for the District was referred to the Legislative Committee for study and recommendation to the Board at the February meeting.

In other business, the Board authorized Control Officer Benjamin Linsky to obtain a replacement of John E. Yocom, the District's director of technical services, whose resignation becomes effective on February 17.

Yocom has accepted a position as Senior Staff member with the Western Division Laboratories of Arthur D. Little, Inc., an inter-

Netherby Is Builders' Ass'n Head

W. L. "Bud" Netherby of Walnut Creek was elected president of the Home Builders Association of Contra Costa County for 1961 at a meeting of the board of directors.

Other officers elected include Bruce Stringer, Lafayette, vice president, and Allan Fuller, Lafayette, secretary-treasurer.

"The year 1961 will be one of the most important periods in the home building industry since World War II and the association's committee activity will help mold the industry's gross product; therefore, members wishing to serve on the standing committees should indicate their desires as soon as possible," he said.

Fuller had been named to the board of directors at the December election along with Robert Wentz, Concord, and incumbent Bert E. Dawe, Walnut Creek.

Teachers' Clothing Class Set for Feb.

Problems Are Multiplying at Acalanes High Gymnasium

The Ski Line Area's Luckiest Folks Spent Holidays in Snow

By HEC HANCOCK

Old skiers, young skiers, new skiers, experienced skiers and even non-skiers flocked to the Sierra slopes in unprecedented numbers during the recent holiday season.

Except for the two weeks of the Olympics last year, the week between Christmas and New Years was undoubtedly the largest yet recorded in Northern California.

Central Contra Costa was so well represented that the highways leading to the high country began to resemble the old commute trail.

Dr. Bill Harris, the dentist fellow from Lafayette, took his brood up to enjoy the skiing, using Reno as a base of operations. The amiable realtor of Walnut Creek, Bill Hayward, and his family spent several days at Long Barn and skied Dodge Ridge.

The Mt. Diablo Ski Club's lodge at Squaw Valley was filled to capacity during the entire two weeks of the holiday season. The Bill Cameron family of Walnut Creek was fortunate enough to be able to stay for the entire two weeks.

Also adding character to the gathering were Barbara Edwards and Constance Petersen of Walnut Creek and Ann Olsen of Lafayette.

The vice prexy of the Mt. Diablo group, the skiing sign painter of Walnut Creek, Frank Sellers, was conspicuous by his absence, inasmuch as he is sliding down the slopes of Kitzbuhel in the Austrian Tyrol.

The younger schussers were also well represented. Rick and Steve Miles of Walnut Creek and Chris McNulty of Lafayette made a trip to the Sugar Bowl at Norden. Rick, now attending the University of Nevada, will be working weekends at Squaw Valley henceforth.

A trio of Las Lomas schussboomers, Bruce Hamilton, Al Scott and Matt Connelly Jr., looked real sharp on the famed Squaw Valley slopes.

However, despite all this obvious enthusiasm, there were some dissidents. Mel Alamo was heard to mutter it would be a cold day in Honolulu before he would venture into such Arctic climes!

A noteworthy observation on the current ski scene is the high level of recreational skiing that now exists. The spread of the ski level existing after the war (the big one) and that being practiced today is truly amazing.

While our ski success in international competition leaves something to be desired, I'm convinced that the level of recreation skiing is second to none. The skier populating Aspen, Sun Valley and Squaw Valley slopes can match his counterpart on Davos, St. Moritz and Kitzbuhel runs.

All this jazz about most Europeans being brought up on skis is pointless. When you consider areas such as Colorado, Utah, New England, we probably have as many people living in snow country as most European countries.

The important factor is how they avail themselves of the facilities, equipment and instruction. The percentage in this country has increased in fantastic proportions.

Actually, we are just a half step away from being a serious contender on the competitive scene. Our girl skiers are already. Our skiers have the potential, as shown by the huge reservoir of excellent recreational skiers.

What is now required is training on first class runs, international experience and the added poise of the major leaguer.

The Sportsmen Foggy Weather Throws a Damper on Outdoor Sports

By LARRY JACKSON

Hunting and fishing items for the past week-10 days have been hard to come by. Plenty of fish and plenty of birds but short on fishermen because of the "foul" weather and the hunters were more than plagued by the heavy fog.

All along the fishing front the strippers have taken a breather with flounder taking the play. One exception seems to be the private craft owners out of McAvoy's harbor.

Jim Jordan, Pittsburg, closed out the old year in Middle Grounds with three strippers going to eight pounds. Jim was the only craft out of the landing and he opened the new year with another limit, 6-8-10.

Jim and Sharon Kendle, Concord, closed out December with two limits up to nine pounds and over the weekend missed on the strippers but loaded up on the three-four pound flounder — thus christening the new Christmas boat and motor. Jim says Honker Bay is crawling with flounder, no bass to speak of.

White's Fishing Resort, nothing but flounder but plenty of them when fishermen are present. We watched the Dowdell No. 5 dock Sunday noon with a light load, mostly the juveniles, all had flounder with one just legal size stripper.

Reports here, too, are not of the best as the weather kept the boats docked and the fishermen at home. Scouts say plenty of fish waiting for the warmer weather and we are sure the takes will jump when the weather breaks.

The duck season ended with spotty shooting in all sections from Los Banos to Colusa. The further north you went the heavier the fog.

A few lucky nimrods, the Lawrence boys, Paul and Harry, Walnut Creek Meat Company, sat out the chill and fog and finally ended the season with limit bags of sprig in the Suisun marshes. Dr. Ed Maloney and son Ed dittoed at their club setup at Cordelia.

Both these sportsmen, of Lafayette, have had several good shoots during the past two weeks in spite of the come and go fog. Olin Eddy, Sports Chateau, Pleasant Hill, wrapped up the season at Staten Island with a so-so bag of both geese and ducks. Cecil Kelly, the sporting goods man of Lafayette, forsook the ducks but hit the Pettit's Game Management pheasant setup at Butte City. The going was a little rough but Cece and his German Wirehair bagged their share.

This writer spent three miserable days at Colusa, almost completely soaked in with fog, but finally settled with a mixed goose-duck bag, short of limits. Just too tough going in the heavy dew.

Our personal summary of the now closed duck season, from Los Banos to Colusa, showed plenty of ducks, an abundant crop of geese, but poor shooting conditions. In the first half of the season, too much blue-bird shirt-sleeve weather and the last half too much fog. Little rain or wind to keep the birds active. So ends the nimmer-rod for the year. No heavy damage to the bird crops and here's hoping they return next year in such numbers and we get a better break in the weather.

We guested at the Walnut Creek Sportsmens Club, Inc., on Tuesday, will have news of the event next week. Feel this is important as the boys have several excellent proposals for the coming year.

Acalanes Defeats Wolves In League Game, 37-34

Acalanes won their second league game of the new season by squeezing by San Ramon, 37-34, Tuesday at Acalanes.

The Dons could muster only five points in the final period as the Wolves almost pulled the game out.

THE HOME TEAM had led, 32-24, going into the final period. The Wolves closed the gap to a single basket with two minutes to go in the contest, but Doug Tretter and Tom Strain hit for a pair of quick field goals to put the game out of the visitors' reach.

They were the only baskets scored in the period by the Dons. SAN RAMON led by four points at the end of the first quarter, but the Dons jumped into a 19-15 lead at the half as John Jones hit for three field goals.

Center Dennis Herricks of Acalanes was the game's top scorer with 14 points.

Forward Bob Stellmacher of San Ramon was the only other player in double figures as he hit for 11 points.

Both teams had 15 field goals.

Late Surge Aids Piedmont in Win Over Alhambra

Piedmont outscored Alhambra, 11-2, in the final two minutes of their game last Tuesday to score a 55-44 victory.

The Highlanders fell behind early in the game, trailing 16-8 at the end of the first period.

They came back strong in the second quarter to knot the score at 24-24 at the half.

PIEDMONT gained the lead for the first time in the game during the third quarter and was ahead going into the final quarter.

With two minutes to play in the game the lead was reduced to 44-42.

Rick Prestwood, Craig Coalsley and Tom Stewart then cracked the Martinez' club pressing defense for key baskets in the final two minutes, scoring 11 points between them.

Prestwood finished the game with 26 points as he pumped in 12 baskets. Tom Stewart had 11 points.

Morgan Gowth led the Bulldogs with 12 points while Dennis Watson had 11.

PIEDMONT Coach Bob Cope claimed his team played their best game of the year on the boards.

The Clan grabbed off 33 defensive rebounds to Alhambra's 14 and 19 offensive rebounds to 14 for the Bulldogs.

Piedmont hit on 24 of 63 field goal attempts while Alhambra hit on 17 of 44 tries.

Pleasant Hill Cagers Lose to Clayton Valley

Clayton Valley came from behind in the second half to pin a 56-49 defeat on the Pleasant Hill Rams last Tuesday.

The Eagles shot out in front early, holding a 11-7 first quarter advantage.

THE VISITING Rams then outscored the Eagles 20-13 in the second quarter to grab a 27-24 half time lead.

Pleasant Hill cooled off in the third quarter and the Eagles bounced back into the lead, 38-34 going into the final stanza.

Clayton Valley's Gary Love-ridge netted nine field goals and five free throws to pace all scorers with 23 points.

DICK DOYLE paced the Rams with 15 points, nine of these coming on charity tosses. Terry Hughes added 13 more for the losers.

Rick Banhead contributed 14 points to the Eagles cause.

Pleasant Hill plays their next two contests on their home floor, hosting College Park tonight and Pacifica next Tuesday.

The Clayton Valley junior varsity made it a double win for the home team by downing the Junior Rams, 29-24, in the preliminary game.

ELDER STATESMAN of the Foothill League coaching fraternity is George DeKlotz, athletic director at Las Lomas High School, who has been coaching since 1926. DeKlotz became the Las Lomas head football coach in 1953, and from then until 1958 his teams never finished lower than second in the league. In 1958, Las Lomas won the league's football title. DeKlotz has also coached Bee basketball and golf at the Walnut Creek school.

Sports Personalities Will Attend Baseball Banquet

There are many fine coaches in the local area, but one who ranks at the top is George DeKlotz, the genial athletic director of Las Lomas High School.

One thing is certain; there is no one with a wider field of experience nor has a better record in the win, loss column.

He has been coaching since 1926 and in football has an enviable record of 149 wins and only 44 losses. In basketball over the same period, his teams have scored 365 victories as compared to 150 losses.

DeKLOTZ was born in South Dakota, in a town with the colorful name of Plandreau. He went through grade school there and on into high school, where he won nine varsity letters, three each in football, basketball and track.

In basketball he made the first string all-state team in his senior year.

DeKlotz entered the University of South Dakota in 1923, where again he was a three sport letterman. He won honors as an all-league basketball player for the university.

He was graduated in 1926 and took over as football, basketball and track coach at Vermillion High School in South Dakota.

HIS FINE five-year record at Vermillion High earned him the job as assistant football coach and freshman basketball coach at the university from which he was graduated.

In 1933 he moved to Huron, South Dakota, and became the high school's head football, basketball and track coach.

Again his record as a coach was outstanding. His basketball teams won the state basketball championships in 1936 and 1937.

The war brought DeKlotz to California and St. Mary's College where he was in the Navy Pre-flight program. His fine work with the school's basketball team prompted the college to offer him a job as assistant varsity football coach and head freshman basketball coach.

THE MONUMENT BOWL team won the first half championship of the Monument Classic League by taking three points from Shop for Bowlers at the Pleasant Hill bowl last week.

Shop for Bowlers finished in second place with Walnut Creek Electric in third in the first half standings.

Ira Harrington of Walnut Creek Electric shot the high game of the night with a 242, and Jim Love of Lawrence Chrysler-Plymouth had the high series of the night, a 631, with games of 214, 232 and 185.

Al Zehetmir of Diablo Bowling Supply recorded a 607 series.

MT. DIABLO 760 HANDICAP LEAGUE

In the first week of the second half there is a three-way tie for first place with Compton's Sporting Goods, W.C. Native Sons and Sons of Norway.

Ed Paoli of Crowe and Crowe shot the high game of the night 204. Sam Satrie of Sons of Norway shot the high series of the night, 543, with games of 176, 177 and 190.

DVC Cagers Will Open Conference Season Tonight

The Diablo Valley College Varsity basketball team has its work cut out for tonight when it opens the Coast Conference season against Monterey Peninsula College on the Monterey court.

With a tight game which they lost to the Cal Frosh at Berkeley Saturday night, the Lobos should prove to be strong opponents in the league opener.

THE VIKINGS' new mentor, Charlie Karp, said this week that "We have a lot of improving to do if we want to win any of our next 14 conference games."

A loss to the Oakland City College T-Birds last Friday in their final practice game, 56-41, gave the Vikings a final pre-conference record of six wins and six losses.

The DVC cagers defeated College of Marin, Santa Rosa Junior College, Sacramento City College, Vallejo College, Menlo College and Napa College.

The local squad has on its record losses to Contra Costa College twice, Modesto Junior College, San Jose City College, San Mateo and Oakland.

IN THE COAST Conference Tournament last month, the Vikings placed third, with the loss to defending league and state champion San Jose City College the only blemish on their record.

Following tonight's opener at Monterey, the Vikings' next contest will be against Hartnell College at Salinas tomorrow night.

The starting lineup, according to Karp, probably will see Ken Olafson and leading scorer Don Montgomery at the forwards, Ramie Smith at center and George Smylie and Bob Gomez at the guards.

Mats Upset Knights in Cage Tilt

The Miramonte Matadors gave their home fans something to cheer about in their league game Tuesday as they posted a 44-35 win over Las Lomas.

Playing cool and deliberate ball, Miramonte kept the game pretty well in hand as they outplayed the visitors throughout the contest.

THE KNIGHTS just could not find the range in the first half, hitting on one of 12 field goal attempts in the first half.

After leading by two points at the end of the first quarter, the Knights fell behind, 20-12, at the half. Miramonte increased the advantage to 34-22 at the end of three quarters.

Miramonte outrebounded the visitors, 24-18.

THE HOME SQUAD displayed some fine shooting as they hit on 16 of 33 attempts from the floor.

Center Jack Gilbert paced the Miramonte balanced scoring with 13 points. Bill Caldwell was right behind with 12 and Doug Hudson added 11 for the winners.

Bob Nichols had 10 points for Las Lomas.

Facility Now Rated as Contra Costa's Poorest

By ERWIN MATTSON

The Acalanes High School gym is one of the items that has been the subject of much controversy the past few years and in itself has created a lot of problems.

The problems have been in more ways than just the matter of a place to play basketball games or hold gym classes.

The present gym was built in 1940 when the school was first constructed and had an enrollment of slightly over 400. It was constructed as a gym-auditorium combination which worked out well enough in the early school years when enrollment was down, but has been anything but adequate, particularly at the present time, with an enrollment of more than 1300.

FIRE REGULATIONS mean that student body meetings have to be held in two sections, which means all student body functions must have a repeat performance and this in itself creates multiple problems.

The stage combination means that school plays, modern dance and the many other school functions requiring stage use are in a constant struggle to make the best of crowded conditions.

Basketball as a sport is particularly hampered and the spectator capacity is a little over 600, which means that only half of the student body can attend, let alone outside spectators or those from visiting schools.

Times have really changed over the past 20 years as is witnessed by the fact that the Acalanes gym in 1940 was rated the county's best and is now listed as the poorest.

PLANS IN 1940 called for a gym to be built on a large and more adequate scale in 1942, but the war came along and the plans were upset. The end of the war found a local population explosion and new schools were a must on the priority list.

The problem has become acute and it remains to be seen how and when it will be solved. Present plans call for a bond election next month with the program calling for much needed facilities at each of the existing schools, which means Acalanes, Las Lomas, Miramonte and Del Valle as well as the building of a new plant at Rheem Center.

The school population was down in 1940 and so were the prices, as witness the fact that the present gym cost around $80,000 and the whole plant plus expenses for the first year came to under $400,000.

Needless to say, the dollar doesn't go nearly so far and money as always is a problem.

Dons, Knights, Mats Win League Opening Contests

The Acalanes Dons made their league opener a successful one last Friday night as they posted a 41-29 win over Alhambra.

The Dons held only a 24-19 lead at the end of three quarters, but poured it on in the last quarter to score an easy victory.

GARY MITLEN paced the Dons Bees to a 54-36 win by scoring 19 points. Doug Sanderson and Chris Westphals each added 11 points for the winners while Kirby Longs had 10.

In the varsity contest, the Dons led throughout, but never pulled away from the Bulldogs until midway through the fourth quarter.

Acalanes held a scant 14-12 lead at the half.

Dave Stogman topped the Dons' balanced scoring with 10 points. Dennis Herrick had eight and John John finished with seven.

Henry Bartellino topped the losers with seven points.

LAS LOMAS had their troubles in the first half with San Ramon, but then got moving in the last two quarters to dump the Wolves, 50-30, in Las Lomas.

New Year Will See Progress in Wildlife Areas

Nineteen sixty-one will see a continued emphasis on hunting and fishing access and habitat improvement, in the words of Ray Nesbit, coordinator of the Wildlife Conservation Board.

Noting that the year just ended saw 42 projects of the Wildlife Conservation Board completed, under development or planned and approved, Nesbit said: "These accomplishments will be added to, particularly with reference to stream clearance along the north coast."

Stream habitat improvement is designed to remove old logging jams and other debris, which block the spawning migrations of salmon and steelhead. A long range, 10-year program of stream clearance was outlined by the board last fall.

Last year, six of the completed projects helped solve coastal and inland angling access problems, while reservoirs developed for public fishing included Isabella and Nacimiento and Legg Lake in Los Angeles County.

Under development or scheduled were 17 more angling access projects and nine more projects to develop public fishing on reservoirs.

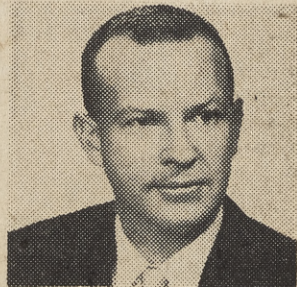

Knight Wrestlers Are Underdogs in Pittsburg Match

The Las Lomas Knights have won two dual meets while dropping a like number and they meet the Pittsburg Pirates today and on the basis of performance will have to pull an upset if they are to hit the win column.

The Pirates, while not the best in the Contra Costa League, have good balance and on paper at least appear to have too much all around depth for the Knights.

Coach Ed Melendes will be doing a bit of experimenting with an eye to meeting the Acalanes Dons in the league opener a week from Tuesday.

Reluctant Pruners Have Plenty of Good Company

There's something about pruning a shrub that hints of mystery to many gardeners. They know it's desirable but don't know why. And they have only the haziest idea of what to prune or how and when to do it.

If you are a reluctant pruner, know then that you have plenty of company. And know, too, that your reluctance is founded on an ignorance which is definitely not blissful. For pruning is a tool by which you can control your garden and to wield it with confidence is a satisfying experience.

WE PRUNE to shape trees and shrubs, to encourage new growth and the production of fruit or flowers, to control size and to guide new growth in the direction we would have it take.

We also prune to remove dead wood and to stimulate old shrubs to a renewed effort. Understand this and you remove much of the mystery right there.

During winter months, when they are leafless and sound asleep, we prune roses, fruit trees, grapes and berries. Spring flowering deciduous shrubs, however, should not be pruned until after they bloom. To cut them back now would only reduce the number of soon-to-bloom flower buds.

PRUNING a fruit tree will vary by variety and you would do well to ask a California Association of Nurserymen member which tree likes what. Pruning roses is something you can start on right now, however, with only a modicum of advice.

Roses bloom only on new growth, which explains in a nutshell the need for pruning them each year. Cut back the old growth and you encourage the new. Could anything be simpler?

There are refinements, to be sure, but they are easily learned. Any C.A.N. nurseryman can supply you with how-to-do-it literature that removes whatever doubts you might still harbor about the job. Catch him at the right time, and you might even get a private lesson on how to prune. Don't be afraid to ask him.

Pruning Shears Should Be Sharp For Best Results

Here are items for the gardener to check this week:

Sharp shears are the greatest asset in pruning trees and shrubs. Make sure yours have a fine edge before you start. It really pays to buy a good pair in the beginning.

In pruning roses, a rule to remember is that if you are not sure of what you are doing, don't do it! You can't glue branches back on the plant! Consult your nurseryman or let him recommend one of the many good illustrated books available.

Shopping for camellias in bloom is a pleasant winter occupation. A different variety will begin showing color every week or two from now into spring.

Winter feeding will often do surprising things to a bedraggled lawn.

Continue bare-root planting—roses, fruit trees, flowering trees and shrubs, shade trees.

Training Courses For Cub Leaders

Al Meade, chairman of Leadership Training of the Meridian District, announced a training course for leaders and committee members of Cub Packs of the district.

This training will cover all phases of pack and den operation and will include sessions on advancement and den operation.

This course will be held in the music room of Parkmead School, 1847 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek, on three Tuesday evenings, January 17, 24 and 31 at 7:30 p.m.

All packs are urged to send three of their leaders and committee members and one or more den mothers to this first training session of 1961.

Deciduous Fruit Trees Should Be Planted in Jan.

Here are items for the gardener to check this week:

Plant deciduous fruit trees this month. Also grapes, cane berries and strawberries.

Plant flowering quince for some delightful early color. A hedge of quince makes a thorny and impassable boundary.

Roses that are not planted the day they are purchased should have their roots covered with moist soil.

Beware of collecting your own leaf mold. You may be collecting a sackful of trouble from oak root fungus at the same time.

If you haven't already, prune roses this month.

EBMUD Gets Dividend for Employee Safety Record

The East Bay Municipal Utility District's intensive on-the-job safety program paid off last year to the tune of $32,329.95, according to William J. Stephens, EBMUD personnel manager.

An insurance dividend check for this amount, representing a saving of 56 per cent of the total premium paid by EBMUD during 1959, was presented to the district by R. S. Malmesbury, manager of the Oakland office of the State Compensation Insurance Fund.

This is in addition to the 33 per cent credit on its insurance rate already earned by the district through its previous safety record. EBMUD pays only two-thirds of the base rate set up for water utilities in California. It has one of the lowest accident experience ratings in the industry.

Stephens noted that during the past three years EBMUD has paid premiums totaling $158,024. Under the base rate for water utilities, premiums would have come to $227,414. Also, EBMUD has received $72,004 in dividend savings. This represents a total saving under the State Compensation Insurance Fund program of $141,394.

Another way to put it, said Stephens, is that during the past three years EBMUD has saved 77½ per cent on the base rate for water utilities in the state. "This is a tribute to the efforts of every EBMUD employee in promoting on-the-job safety," said Stephens. "And, of course, the resulting savings benefit not only the employees but our one million customer-owners as well."

Board Abolishes Six Committees

Six more citizens advisory committees were dissolved by the Contra Costa supervisors last week.

This brings to 24 the numbers of groups abolished in the last month.

The supervisors action is a part of a general housecleaning program designed to eliminate some of the 60 citizen committees formed since 1950.

County Administrator J. P. McBrien, who initiated the program, plans to do away with all groups which have been inactive.

The committees which still serve an advisory need will be reactivated.

Rep. Baldwin Elected as House 'Whip'

Congressman John F. Baldwin has been elected Whip of the California Republican delegation in the House of Representatives.

Baldwin was elected at the first meeting of the California Republican delegation which was held shortly after the 87th Congress convened.

In this position Baldwin will not only serve as whip for the California Republican delegation, but also as assistant whip for the entire Republican side of the House.

THE DUTIES of whip involve notifying and keeping members on the floor of the House when important votes are pending, and also polling members as to their position on bills which will come before the House for a vote.

DANGEROUS WEAPON

A Memphis, Tenn., woman was charged with reckless driving when she rammed her car into a parked car containing her husband. "I ran into the car on purpose," she told police. "I own it, and I can run into it if I want to."

A trellised row or two of blackberries can provide a year-round treat for the home gardener. For the several weeks in summer when they are loaded with fruit, only serve as whip for the California Republican delegation, but also as assistant whip for the entire Republican side of the House.

THE DUTIES of whip involve notifying and keeping members on the floor of the House when important votes are pending, and also polling members as to their position on bills which will come before the House for a vote.

Davis Named New EBMUD Director

The board of directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District has appointed Stuart Davis, 46, of 11 El Sueno, Orinda, to fill out the unexpired four-year term of Director Harold W. Saunders, who died December 23.

Davis is president of the board of directors of the First Savings and Loan Association. He will represent Ward 2 of EBMUD—comprising portions of Berkeley and North Oakland and the district's East of the Hills service area: Orinda, Moraga, Lafayette, Walnut Creek and the San Ramon Valley. His term will expire in January, 1963.

THE NEW EBMUD director joined the staff of First Savings in 1938 after graduating from St. Mary's College, and has served as teller, appraiser, treasurer, vice president, executive vice president and director. He was elected president of the firm's board of directors in 1955.

During World War II he served in the U.S. Navy.

He is a member of the board of directors of the Great Western Financial Corporation, the Guaranty Savings and Loan Association, San Jose, and the West Coast Savings and Loan Association of Sacramento.

He is chairman of the legislative committee of the California Savings and Loan League and served as league president in 1955. He also is a member of the legislative committee of the United States Savings and Loan League.

DAVIS is a member of the executive committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce; the Citizens Committee for Urban Renewal; the board of trustees of the Oakland Urban Renewal Foundation; the board of directors of the Uptown Development Association, the executive committee of the Oakland Area Council, Boy Scouts of America, and the financial advisory committee of the Alameda County Heart Association.

In past years he has served as a member of the executive committee of the United States Savings and Loan League and of the Savings and Loan Foundation, Washington, D.C.

He has served as president of the East Bay Chapter of the American Savings and Loan Institute, and as president of the East Bay Chapter of the Society of Residential Appraisers, of which he is a senior member.

He has been active in the Oakland Real Estate Board, having served as mart chairman, education committee chairman and home ownership contest chairman. In 1954 he was awarded a special certificate of appreciation for services rendered to the Oakland Real Estate Board.

Davis and his wife, Elenor, have two children and one grandchild.

McBrien Speaks At Engineers' Dinner Event

J. P. McBrien, Contra Costa County administrator, spoke last night at the dinner meeting of the Diablo Chapter, California Society of Professional Engineers at Kellogg's Steak House, Walnut Creek.

"Problems in County Government Administration" was discussed by McBrien and C. H. Hammond, staff analyst of the administrator's staff.

McBrien graduated from Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1931 with a B.S. degree in civil engineering, obtained a Master of Science degree in 1932 from State of Pennsylvania.

He served four years in the same institution, and was a registered civil engineer in the Army during World War II and held the rank of lieutenant colonel upon his discharge in 1946.

After serving ten years on the staff of public administration service making administration surveys of various governmental operations, he joined the County of Contra Costa in December 1958 as county administrator.

Hammond is a graduate of the University of California with a degree in business administration.

He continued graduate studies in the field of public administration until employed by Contra Costa in 1951 where he served five years in the County Civil Service Department and five years on the staff of the county administrator.

Sanitary District To Buy Property

Directors of the Central Contra Costa Sanitary District last Thursday night authorized the district manager, Gerry Horstkotte, to negotiate for the purchase of a State of California excess parcel of land fronting on the freeway access road, adjacent to the district office site.

Cost of the land will be $12,437 for the approximately 10,000 square feet. Horstkotte plans to develop the parcel into parking space, providing from 27 to 37 additional spaces.

"The purchase is completely vital," he said. The district now needs 90 parking spaces and in 1970 will need 125.

HORSTKOTTE was also authorized to negotiate a settlement with contractors McGuire and Hester relative to their request for $8000 additional payment for work on the Lafayette sewer trunk line.

While pointing out that the contract required bedding rock for the line, and there were no errors on the district's part, the manager said there was room for honest error on the part of the contractor when he bid the job.

Director Irving C. Roemer commented McGuire and Hester have performed the job meticulously, and district counsel John Bohn said it fell within the directors' discretion to make an adjustment.

Horstkotte was directed to return the matter to the board after completing negotiations.

The bid of the Parker Robb Chevrolet company for 9 trucks was accepted.

IN OTHER action the board: Denied a request from the County Public Works Department to exempt the San Ramon Valley Library site from paying the district annexation charge. Directors said schools and other public use properties were charged annexation fees and no exception could be made in the library's case.

The next meeting of district directors will be held January 26 instead of the regularly scheduled January 19.

Local Courts To Hear Minor Traffic Cases

All judicial and municipal judges in Contra Costa County, except one, have been authorized to hear minor juvenile traffic cases.

The lone exception is Municipal Judge Louis McKannay in Concord.

John A. Davis, county probation officer, said more than 4000 juvenile traffic citations a year prove too much of a burden on his already overloaded department.

This fact brought about a decision to make inferior court judges juvenile referees for the minor cases.

The program was successfully initiated in Richmond last September.

The major traffic violations are still handled by the probation department and Superior Courts.

Most growing things will grow straight up no matter how you plant them, and a bulb planted upside down will usually make it to the surface eventually. Not so the gladiolus. Plant it on a slant and it grows on a slant, which can be especially discouraging to the unsuspecting gardener. To insure level planting, be sure you start a gladiolus in the direction you want it to grow.

Harold Saunders Will Is Filed

The large estate of Harold W. Saunders, former East Bay Municipal Utility director who lived at 3550 East View Drive, Lafayette, has been left to his four children through a brief will.

Saunders, a retired Emeryville executive and past president of the Contra Costa Development Association, died December 23 while attending a gathering of friends in Oakland.

The 24-page handwritten will, written in July, 1960, and filed in Martinez last week by A. Frank Bray Jr., Martinez attorney, said: "To my beloved children I bequeath all my property to be divided share alike by my daughter, Betty, who I appoint executor without bond."

The daughter is Mrs. Betty Walwyn Stevens of 131 Elena Drive, Walnut Creek.

Bray said he was unable to estimate the exact size of the estate, but estimated it would run into six figures.
